

DAVIS WARNS JAPAN ON NAVY

SOME SENSATIONAL EVIDENCE ADDUCED IN MUNITIONS PROBE

SENATOR CLARK AND DUPONT ENGAGE IN HEATED VERBAL TILT TODAY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Evidence was presented to the senate munitions committee today that officers of the Remington Arms company "got busy" at Washington when a sales agent in the Chaco reported rumors of an American arms embargo were hurting business.

Previously, the committee had received evidence that the Du Pont company sent a shipment of powder to Holland in 1929 for re-shipment to China while an embargo was in effect against the re-shipment of munitions directly to China.

F. J. Monaghan, export manager for the Remington company, said he came to Washington to "see what the facts were."

He testified he came to the conclusion, as a result of his visit to the capital, that there wasn't going to be an embargo on the shipment of arms to Bolivia and Paraguay, the Chaco belligerents.

Monaghan was closely questioned about his activities by Senator Clark (D-Iowa) after a letter was read from the witness to the South American agent in 1933 saying "we immediately got busy" on the embargo question.

Testimony had been received the Remington company sold 20,000,000 cartridges to Bolivia during 1933 and in 1934 before shipment was embargoed by President Roosevelt on May 23.

Only 100,000 cartridges were sold to Paraguay during the same period and he said he understood these were for non-military purposes.

F. Beebe, officer of Winchester arms, said his company had sold about 2,500,000 cartridges to Bolivia during the same period as the Remington company.

It was brought out that Paraguay bought most of her supplies abroad.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—Evidence that the Du Pont company sent a shipment of powder to Holland in 1929 for re-shipment to China while an embargo was in effect against the re-shipment of munitions directly to China was received today by senate investigators.

This came after Senator Clark (D-Mo.) had asserted it was unnecessary for the United States to enter the world war "except to protect munitions makers' profits."

The committee was told that state department files showed no indication the department had suggested a conference of arms makers called by Herbert Hoover, as secretary of commerce, before the 1925 Geneva arms conference.

The former president said yesterday Frank B. Kellogg, secretary of state in 1925, had suggested the conference.

MAJOR OPERATION ON NRA MECHANISM INDICATED SHORTLY

RICHBERG PREDICTS MUCH SIMPLER ATTEMPT AT COOPERATION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—The capital law definite indications today that NRA will launch a major operation from which it will emerge in a much simpler attempt at co-operation between government and business.

Donald R. Richberg dropped a hint that last night when, in addressing the National Association of Manufacturers, in New York, he cited "hampering restraint of rules and regulation" as one of two faults of NRA's operation. The other he described as the eagerness of some business men to use the blue eagle machinery for their own gain.

"Let us try the recovery coordinator said, 'to write into permanent legislation those fundamental principles and simpler mechanisms of the codes of fair competition that have proved effective and have provided self-help and public service.'"

Richberg did not list the NRA features which the next congress will be asked to make permanent. But persons close to the recovery leaders believe the "fundamental principles and simpler mechanisms" referred to flexible codes and labor's rights to bargain collectively and have minimum and wage and maximum hours and guarantees plus the right of the business to associate for certain purposes despite the anti-trust laws. This last right has not been defined.

"Among the things doomed to 'the window' observers put price and production controls which many do not believe have proved their worth."

RUSSIA APPARENTLY ALARMED AT ACCORD GERMANY AND FRANCE

PEACE IN SAAR DURING PLEBISCITE BE KEPT BY INTERNATIONAL POLICE

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY

Associated Press Foreign Staff.

GENEVA, Dec. 6. (AP)—Alarm at the prospect of a close understanding between France and Germany, Soviet Russia has asked France not to conclude any special political accord with another nation pending the fate of the projected pact of Eastern European securities.

Russia was described by League of Nations sources today as fearing isolation for herself would result from any Franco-German political accord.

It is understood France has agreed not to make any special bilateral political treaties without consulting Russia beforehand.

France, it was said, will continue her efforts to get both Germany and Russia into the proposed Eastern European security convention—often called the "Eastern Locarno Pact." Such a pact, in the opinion of the French statesman who proposed it, would insure peace on Germany's Eastern frontier.

Russia has come to the position of giving prime importance to the eastern pact as with peace assured on her western boundary, she would be left free to cope with the Japanese problem in the Far East.

Agreement Reached.

The agreement between France and Russia was said to have been reached directly between Pierre Laval, French foreign minister, and Maxim Litvinov, Russian foreign commissar.

From official sources, it was learned that Konstantin Von Neurath, German foreign minister, had telephoned German ambassador Krauel at Geneva, authorizing the acceptance of the dispatch of an international police force into the Saar basin territory to preserve law and order there during the plebiscite next month.

Germany's reply to the league offer of such a force, which would include British soldiers together with those of other nations, was described as "absolutely affirmative." It was understood that the German reply expressed the hope that the military force would be limited in size and (Continued on Page Eleven)

Austria Decides

Grant Poderjaj's Extradition U. S.

VIENNA, Dec. 6. (AP)—Austria decided today to grant the United States request for extradition of Captain Ivan Poderjaj, wanted in connection with the disappearance of his bride, Agnes Tuferverson, Detroit and New York attorney.

Poderjaj is charged with bigamy in New York, the grounds for the extradition. He has been a prisoner of the Austrian government for six months.

He will be handed over within a few days to Austrian police, who will take him to the German border. There German authorities will convey him to Hamburg and place him aboard an American steamer. Once aboard, American detectives will take charge of him.

Miss Tuferverson was last heard from in January less than a month after she had wed Poderjaj in New York.

An investigation of the disappearance led to Poderjaj's arrest here, where he was living with another woman, said by authorities to have been his first wife.

An original American demand for him on the grounds of perjury was denied because it is not extraditable offense in this country unless committed before a court.

YUGOSLAVIA PLANS EXPULSION OF ALL 27,000 HUNGARIANS

HUNGARY WILL PROTEST TO LEAGUE OF NATIONS, ALLEGING MISTREATMENT

(Copyright, 1934, By Associated Press.)

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Dec. 6. (AP)—On top of an authoritative announcement that Yugoslavia is engaged in expelling all Hungarians who have not become Yugoslav citizens, a foreign office spokesman announced today that his government intended to settle its differences with Hungary in a peaceful manner through the League of Nations.

The total number of Hungarians who are to be thrown out of the country is about 27,000. Many hundreds of them already have been sent to the Hungarian border.

The official reason for the expulsion is that these persons, during the 16 years of Yugoslav sovereignty, have not seen fit to drop their allegiance to Hungary. The government does not wish that this fact be used as a basis for treaty revisions under which parts of Yugoslavia might be turned back to Hungary.

A rumor that Yugoslavia had broken off diplomatic relations with Hungary was denied indignantly by the foreign office spokesman.

"Such reports," he declared, "are utterly without basis and are obviously absurd. Our appeal to the League of Nations comes up tomorrow and the very fact that we appealed to Geneva shows we expect justice through the League without any thought of breaking our relations with Hungary."

It was stated authoritatively that the expulsion will be a gradual one.

STRANGE MALADY TAKES SEVEN FROM FAMILY AT WHEELER

OTHER MEMBERS THREATENED BY CEREBRO-SPINAL INFLUENZA

WHEELER, Dec. 6. (AP)—A strange malady that has claimed seven members of the A. J. Baker family in the last month today threatened to take one, and possibly three, of the four remaining members.

Funeral services were conducted here yesterday for the last victim to die.

Hoyt Baker, son of A. J. Baker, was the first to be afflicted, but was still alive. His wife, two sons, a daughter, two brothers and a sister have died. One son, Teddy, a brother, Guy Noel, 8, and the sister, Corine, 17, died Tuesday. Teddy died during his mother's funeral.

Mrs. Hoyt Baker died Monday night. She preceded in death by an infant daughter, who died November 3, and a son, Daniel Wayne, 4, who died Sunday, Monday.

WEARY BUT WILLING SEARCHERS CONTINUE SEEK MISSING MEN

SEARCHERS TURNED NORTH IN HUNT FOR ULM AND HIS TWO COMPANIONS

HONOLULU, Dec. 6. (AP)—Weary but willing naval searchers went on relentlessly today in the hunt for flight Lieutenant Charles T. R. Ulm and two companions, missing since Tuesday when lack of fuel forced their trans-Pacific monoplane into the ocean.

Plots of a dozen navy sea-planes plotted courses over 200,000 square miles of the adjacent Pacific which has been combed the last two days for the missing plane. No sign of the plane has been seen.

Chances dwindled, however, as the hours piled up past the time it was believed the "Star of Australia" could remain afloat with Ulm, Co-pilot George Littlejohn and Navigator J. L. Skilling. The land plane carried no life saving equipment.

The airman were bound here from Oakland, Calif., on the first leg of a flight to Australia which they hoped would chart the course of a commercial air venture.

Basing calculations on winds and tides and recalling the experience of Commander John Rodgers in 1925, searching forces planned today to survey the ocean to the north of Oahu Island, on which Honolulu is situated.

RAYMOND HAMILTON ROBS CONTINENTAL REFINERY OFFICE

APPEARED AT PLANT WEST OF DALLAS AND SECURED $200 AND ESCAPED

DALLAS, Dec. 6. (AP)—

A robber believed to be Raymond Hamilton, notorious condemned killer, and two companions robbed the Continental Oil company refinery office of $200 this afternoon.

H. P. Forest, cashier for the oil company which is located on the Eagle Ford road six miles west of Dallas, was forced to open the office safe. He said he was positive the leader of the three robbers was Hamilton whom he has known for several years.

Forest and another office employee were in the office when the man identified as Hamilton came in with a companion. The third man waited at the wheel of an automobile in the roadway outside.

Hamilton has been at large since he and two other condemned men escaped from the state penitentiary after a gun fight with guards. Three other prisoners attempted to flee with them but were shot down inside the walls.

It had been known that Hamilton was in this section of Texas recently. A few days ago his fingerprints were found on a liquor bottle thrown away at Fort Worth.

ANOTHER ARREST IS EXPECTED AT TULSA IN MURDER PROBE

TWO ROOMMATES OF SLAIN MAN BROUGHT TULSA FOR GUARDING

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 6. (AP)—A forecast of a new and sensational arrest in the John Gorrell slaying of Thanksgiving today apparently awaited the return from Kansas City of Sgt. H. P. Maddux of the Tulsa detective department, to materialize.

Maddux announced that he had evidence upon which to base the new arrest after a day of investigating Kansas City angles of the case. He said charges of accessory to murder would be filed.

Det. George Reiff, who accompanied Maddux to Kansas City, was said by officers here to have remained there for further inquiry and especially to seek the negative of a picture which allegedly figures in the case.

Meanwhile, other developments were:

1. Attorney General J. Berry King of Oklahoma, in conjunction with County Attorney Holly Anderson preparatory to aiding the prosecution of Phil Kennamer, 19-year-old son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer, confessed slayer of the slain.

2. Deputy Sheriff E. E. Benson reported upon his return from Springfield, Mo., that Sam Shumaker, convicted burglar, had no valuable information to impart but simply was trying "to get out in the fresh air awhile."

MYSTERY, ADVENTURE, DEATH AND DISAPPEARANCE FOUND IN GALAPAGOS BY HANCOCK PARTY

By WALTER B. CLAUSEN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6. (AP)—Sudden death to a world-famed nudist, solution of an enigmatic mystery, and the strange disappearance of a baroness "emerged" from the news flashed from one of the world's loneliest islands today by a party of Smithsonian scientists.

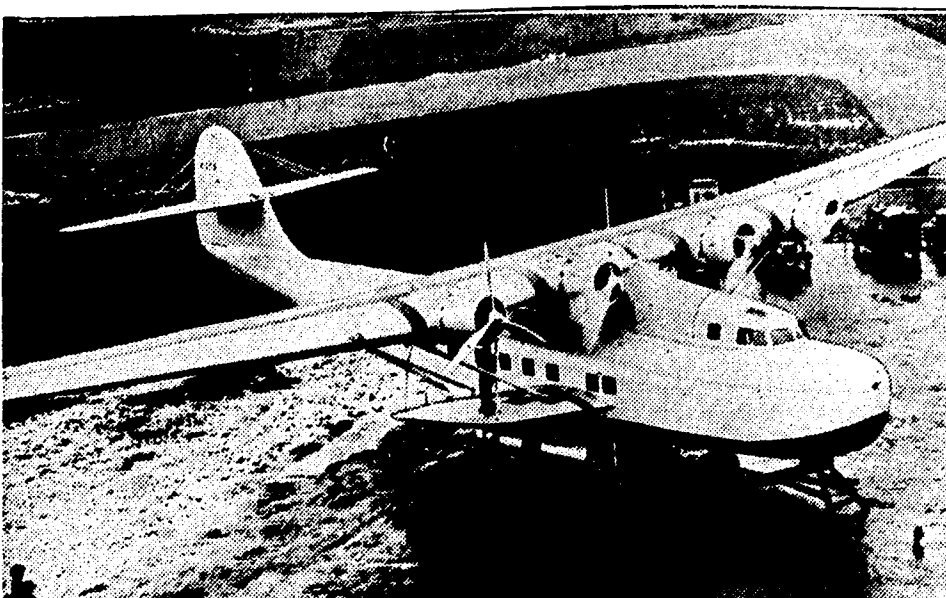

Capt. G. Allan Hancock, master of the exploration cruiser Velero III, found the maze of mystery for Christmas Island, 50 miles off the coast of Ecuador.

Dr. Friedrich Ritter, self-styled Berlin philosopher and raw food addict, who during his six years on the lonely island, regarded Captain Hancock as his most intimate friend back in civilization, died from a paralytic stroke Nov. 21.

The equatorial death mystery of Waterless Machena Island where two mummified bodies were seen Nov. 17 by a tuna clipper's crew was found by Captain Hancock to be a triple death tragedy.

HUSBAND SOUGHT AFTER WIFE'S BODY FOUND IN TRUNK

DISMEMBERED BODY LOS ANGELES WOMAN DISCOVERED IN SHACK

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6. (AP)—An extensive search was instituted today for John H. Happel, wanted for questioning in connection with the slaying of his wife, Mrs. Rosabella Happel, whose dismembered body was found in a trunk in the corner of a windowless shack.

County autopsy surgeons announced the 46-year-old woman was beaten to death three days to a week ago. The body, which had been dismembered at the knees, was identified by Fred Happel, son of the missing 68-year-old husband, and John Corigan, a friend of the family.

Police said Fred Happel informed them his father and stepmother had quarrelled at times over money.

Happel, the son said, complained that his wife was niggardly in giving him money for tobacco and small wants and frequently accused her of having broken her promise to purchase a farm at St. James, Mo., to which they could retire.

Fred Happel vigorously protested his father was not capable of the crime because he was a semine invalid.

Summoned by tenants, A. G. Wyatt, owner of the building found the Happel apartment in a state of confusion. Police broke into the securely locked shack.

Flames Damaged Waterfront Plant Over Half Million

Alameda, Calif., Dec. 6. (AP)—Flames seriously damaged the McClintic Marshall corporation and the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation joint plant here before they were brought under control early today.

Loss was estimated by firemen at more than $500,000. Because of the heat of the flames, made intense by burning creosote on a loading dock and fanned by a wind, firemen first feared the plant might be destroyed.

The blaze originated in one of the two steam cranes, erected on piles and used for loading steel for the San Francisco-Oakland bridge.

REMOVAL SECRETARY ICKES IS DEMANDED AT KILGORE MEETING

ASSERT OIL ADMINISTRATOR TRYING TO RUIN INDEPENDENT REFINERS

KILGORE, Dec. 6. (AP)—Removal of Secretary Harold I. Ickes as oil administrator was urged by speakers at a mass meeting attended by approximately 1,000 persons here last night.

Sam Goldman, Kilgore merchant, who presided, urged all present to send telegrams to President Roosevelt asking for Ickes' dismissal.

"President Roosevelt should be ashamed to have a man in his cabinet that would close down the industry and throw five thousand men out of work when the government is spending millions to feed the unemployed," State Senator Joe Moore of Greenville told the gathering.

A resolution, directed at Secretary Ickes, was passed.

"Resolved, to demand the resignation of Secretary Ickes because of his action, due to inexperience and unfamiliarity with the oil business in East Texas or with the design to suppress and destroy the independent refiners in this area."

The resolution asking Ickes' removal was passed without a dissenting voice.

Protest Federal Bills.

Other speakers protested against the Thomas-Disney federal bill or similar action and declared against discriminatory enforcement.

Designed for trans-Atlantic or trans-Pacific flying, the four-motored plane will accommodate forty-three passengers and a crew of four. It is 90 feet long, 24 feet high and has a wing span of 130 feet. Col. Lindbergh assisted in designing the air liner.

COUNTER-THRUST AT TERRORISTS CAUSE DEATH SIXTY-SIX

SOVIET RUSSIA CONTINUES TAKE REVENGE KIROFF ASSASSINATION

By CHARLES S. SMITH

Associated Press Foreign Staff.

MOSCOW, Dec. 6. (AP)—Sixty-six persons, including one woman, had paid with their lives today for the assassination of Sergei Kiroff, red leader and friend of Joseph Stalin.

The 66 were tried in Moscow and Leningrad yesterday and summarily executed. The ashes of Kiroff, himself, were sealed with proletarian pomp and ceremony in the wall of the Kremlin.

The official announcement of the execution was brief. It said that a woman named Zinaida Bulgina was among those executed in Moscow. Just what connection the 66 had with the crime, actually committed by a discharged former Soviet employee, Leonid Nicoloff, was not specified.

The list of the condemned showed a duplication of family names and middle names in three cases, indicating that brothers had been executed. All the property of those put to death was confiscated.

Origins Unknown.

No light was thrown on the origin of those executed, although it was indicated they had entered Russia through Poland, Latvia, and Finland.

In "enemies" of the government were arrested. Only five of them escaped execution. These five were held for further questioning.

New "terror" decrees, invoked because of the nation's anger at Kiroff's slaying last Saturday, were carried out to the letter. There were no defense attorneys, no prosecutors—and no appeals were allowed.

A terse government announcement of the executions said 37 were put to death at Leningrad, and two spared, 29 executed here and three held.

Secrecy Is Maintained.

The cloak of official secrecy, applied to details of Kiroff's death, was extended to the executions. In what manner the 66 were killed and where was not revealed. It was assumed they had faced firing squads.

Protest of the condemned men was confiscated. Their names were announced but none apparently was prominent in the (Continued on Page Eleven)

Guests of Noted Hotel Routed By Fire Early Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6. (AP)—A five-alarm fire routed hundreds of guests from their beds in the smart St. Francis Hotel about 6 a. m. today before firemen brought the blaze under control an hour after it broke out.

Residents in the popular downtown hotel were awakened by the shouts of firemen and calls of room clerks and hurried into the lobby in various stages of attire.

Firemen said the blaze was checked so quickly they never were in any real danger and sent them back to the rooms not long after they were awakened.

Manager James McCabe said damage probably would be confined to the popular Colonial ball room and the Italian room, both on the mezzanine floor where the fire started, apparently in a pantry. McCabe declined to estimate the amount of damage.

Fire Chief Charles Brennan estimated damage at $100,000. His left hand was burned when he slipped on a stairway between the second and third floors. Two other firemen were overcome by smoke.

Brennan said "anybody's guess" was as good as his as to how the fire started. The first alarm was turned in at 5:45 a. m.

SCRAPPING NAVAL TREATY WILL MEAN HUGE BUILDING ERA

WOULD ENDANGER SECURITY AND CREATE SUSPICION DAVIS WARNS JAPANESE

By HAROLD F. BRAMAN

(Associated Press Foreign Staff.)

LONDON, Dec. 6. (AP)—In the first public statement of United States policy since the tri-power naval conservation began, Norman H. Davis, United States ambassador-at-large, said today that abandonment of the Washington and London naval treaties "would lead to conditions of insecurity, international suspicion, and costly competition with no real advantage to any nation."

This statement, regarded as a warning to Japan, was made before the American Correspondents Association at a luncheon in Washington.

Heretofore, all statements on the American policy have been released through a delegation spokesman.

Davis declared that "the American government stands for the continuance" of the principles of the two treaties.

Sir John Simon, British foreign secretary, met with Ambassador Tsuneko Matsudaira today and urged that the Japanese explain as soon as possible what they intend to do after they denounce the Washington treaty.

The British foreign secretary also suggested that if the Japanese had any new proposals to make they should do so as quickly as possible. The Japanese ambassador replied that the Japanese would confer with the other members of the delegation.

The American ambassador-at-large also announced for the first time that President Roosevelt has proposed a substantial reduction in naval armaments. Since no agreement to reduce has been reached, the envoy said in a speech before the American Correspondents Association that the United States strongly advocates continuing the Washington and London treaties with their assurance of "equality of security."

(Japanese spokesmen have served notice that Japan will denounce the Washington treaty, which gives the Far Eastern nation the smaller end of a 5-5-3 ratio.)

The speech was the first comprehensive public pronouncement of the American position since the tri-party discussions opened. "It is considered of great importance," Davis said, and established "a sound basis for peace in the Pacific."

"Only by maintenance of the system of equality of security, with proportionate reductions downward of naval strength if possible," he declared, "can there (Continued on Page Eleven)

JOHN GARNER GIVES LITTLE INFORMATION ON VISIT CAPITAL

VICE-PRESIDENT AND WIFE BACK IN WASHINGTON; 'HUNTING' OVER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6. (AP)—"Just a country boy who has just arrived in town to look around" was Vice President John N. Garner's answer today to queries as to why he arrived in Washington so long before the session of congress.

He maintained his usual silence on public questions but said he would confer with President Roosevelt on certain matters of legislation and administration policy.

The vice president and Mrs. Garner arrived by early train. Both said they were feeling fine.

Mr. Garner said he had not had an opportunity to look over several situations and declined to discuss the speakership contest among house democrats.

Then, asked again why he came to Washington far in advance of the next congress, he replied:

"My hunting season was over. I got my bear and there are several things here I wanted to look into."

LIQUOR CONTROL MAP MARKS VARYING TYPES OF ENFORCEMENT

RAILROADS WEST OF MISSISSIPPI TOLD TO CUT GRAIN RATES

NEW ORDER FOLLOWS THE SUPREME COURT DECISION FAVORING CARRIERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(P)—In another attempt to solve an eight-year old case, the Interstate Commerce Commission today directed railroads west of the Mississippi to lower freight rates on grain products.

Once before the commission had acted on the case, but carriers appealed the order and the supreme court which held the commission had erred by not giving consideration to the depression's effect on railroad traffic in 1931, and 1932.

And today, the commission found that its first decision had prescribed rates that were too low in the Southwest and Intermountain territories. Nevertheless, its new decision directed some reductions. It held, too, that some changes were necessary in transit and loading rules.

The commission in its original decision dealt with export rates. Recently, however, in a case involving exports from Galveston and New Orleans, the supreme court overruled the commission and in view of that together with the present lack of export movement, the commission said it was leaving export rates to the discretion of the carriers.

Through Rates. The new decision also provided through rates over direct routes through Minneapolis and the Missouri river market to Chicago, St. Louis, Memphis and the Southwest to be made by combination of prescribed local rates to the intermediate markets and proportional rates beyond. These combinations are to be applied to all shipments stopped at intermediate markets.

The decision limited transit stops—stops made for milling grain—without separate charge, to two.

Stops for inspection will not be charged for except when the shipment is reconsign.

The commission said that mixed carload rules should be revised to confine shipments in mixed carloads to commodities in the grain and grain products group.

Certain Differentials. It ruled that cereal food preparations should take a higher rate than grain and its direct products. It also placed corn, oats, and other coarse grains on the same rate basis as wheat and flour. Coarse grains heretofore have taken a lower rate.

Here's the liquor control situation today as repeal observes its first anniversary. Only Kansas and Alabama, dry both by constitution and legislation, have no laws or regulations providing for the sale of some form of alcoholic beverage, although number of states permit only the sale of 3.2 beer. The general divisions indicated cover a wide range of systems. Kentucky state laws permit drug stores to sell liquor for "medical purposes," although the state constitution forbids it. Wyoming also allows drug store sales for "medical purposes" but in the recent election cleared the way for a state control system. Washington not only has its state dispensary system but also bottles the liquor it sells. Beer is sold in some Georgia cities but without sanction of the state law. In Missouri, the municipalities also sell liquor. Many of the states with license systems provide also for county and city licenses. A few employ both the license and the state store systems.

GOVERNORS' OIL CONFERENCE REACHES IMPASSE ON MATTER OF FEDERAL CONTROL INDUSTRY

PONCA CITY, Okla., Dec. 4.—(P)—Governor-elect E. W. Marland's oil states governor's conference was temporarily beached on the shoals of discord today and adjourned to meet again on January 3.

The conference proceeded smoothly here yesterday in an effort to work out an oil states compact, until Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas and Governor-elect James Allred of Texas disagreed upon the question of federal control of the industry.

Landon said he was in favor of federal control until such time as an agreement could be reached between the states, then the allocation for states should be recommended to a federal board.

Landon's statement came in the wake of a vehement declaration by Allred, declaring he was opposed to the federal government, or any state, telling Texas, "how much oil we can produce."

The Kansas governor added he was opposed to any oil compact of states unless the agreement reached by the conference to the governors of all the oil producing states asking them to study the question and if possible to attend personally the January 3 meeting.

Allred at yesterday's conference declared himself as strenuously opposed to regimentation of the oil industry, and to artificial price fixing either through state or federal control.

Marland was instructed to send copies of resolutions considered by the conference to the governors of all the oil producing states asking them to study the question and if possible to attend personally the January 3 meeting.

Mildred Eagles Closed Season By Downing Oakwood

Mildred Eagles closed a successful season Wednesday by defeating the strong Oakwood club, 13-8 at Oakwood.

The Mildred ladies played ten games during the 1934 season, winning eight, tying one and losing one, finishing in second place in the district 2-C race. The Eagles scored 146 points to 25 for the opposition.

Mildred struck early against the Oakwood aggregation and in less than two minutes after the kickoff, had marched to a touchdown. Harris carried the ball over and Williams converted for the extra point by a pass.

Neither club scored during the remainder of the first period. Oakwood rallied in the second through the air for the only touchdown but failed to make the extra point and were trailing, 7-6 at the half.

Oakwood thundered at the Mildred goal in the final period by a determined offensive thrust, advancing the ball to the Eagles 4-yard stripe where they were stopped. During the final minute of play, Harris intercepted a pass and ran 40 yards for a touchdown to end the scoring.

Plays Guilty to

Murdering Girl;

Sentenced Life

LANSING, Mich., Dec. 6.—(P)—Leroy Carson, 22, a former reformatory inmate, pleaded guilty today to a murder charge for the slaying of the 12-year-old Leon Georgia Love, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The child's body was found yesterday stuffed into a covert along the route she took to her rural school, near here. Detective Sergeant Phillip L. Hutson, of the state police, said that Carson shot the girl when she repulsed his advances and threatened to tell her sister.

The defendant was released from the Michigan state reformatory at Ionia last August after completing a sentence for burglary.

FAILURE OF MODERN TEACHERS TURNS THOUGHTS TO GREATEST

Low Results of "Higher Education" Create New Need for Highest, Which Is Gained In School of Jesus—A Glimpse of Most Powerful Forums in The Land.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Something like a revolt is on in our western world against all forms of "brain trusts." The issue has become of major political importance in the United States; but it is far wider than that. Hard-thinking men and women of common sense have surveyed the modern scene of an unprepared, uneducated generation, and have not found it good. Selfishness has not diminished; frivolity has increased; false values prevail; untested theories and speculations are accepted by youth as a law of life; mere physical sensations have been indulged in; and the mind has been left to wander in a state of aimless drift. The ancient loyalties which the race had learned through tolls of millions are discarded. Nobody has yet written the bitter tale of disillusioned and scorned parents of children who have been "educated" away from home ties and from the simple virtues and integrities.

One Wise Woman's Words
Not long ago, at a Sunday school dinner I met a woman beside a winsome woman who had taught the Bible for forty years. I mentioned to her, perhaps with considerable heat, that I had, during the day, been reading a publication of the International Council of Religious Education, which offered eleven topics of curricula material, ranging from sex to international relations, but made no mention of God, Christ or the Bible. "That's what 'religious education' has come to," she said.

My companion smiled, patiently and tolerantly, and her calm confidence eased my perturbation. "The poor, ignorant creatures do not understand," she said, "that if you teach the Bible simply and faithfully, you impart wisdom to deal with all these various subjects that make up life. 'The entrance of Thy word giveth light.'"

That woman is wiser than the whole aggregation of "experts" in pedagogy and psychology. She knows the power of the Scriptures to reach down to the springs of human thought and conduct, and to purify them. The Bible imparts a new and vital spirit and understanding with which to deal with all problems, old and new. A changed heart is a greater educational influence than a stored head. Besides, Christianity has been the greatest promoter of real education and intelligence.

The Greatest Forum
Apparently, the mood of the public is all set for a return to the Christian way out of our difficulties. An increasing number of voices, many of them in unexpected places, are being lifted in a call to follow the Great Teacher, whose wisdom grows more luminous with the centuries. All of His instruction was aimed at real life, and at the motives of human hearts.

While not generally recognized, it is certain that the most important and potent and sanest forms being conducted in the United States and Canada today are the adult Bible classes, where in rayrads of men and women discuss present problems in the light of Scripture. They are not only far and away the most serious in attendance, but they also have an authority to which to appeal. They are not mere "gab-fests" but sincere consideration of life in the light of the Scriptures. In more than ninety per cent of the cases, the International Uniform Lessons form the basis of their discussion. The Uniform Lesson is not only the greatest single tie binding the churches into unity; but also it is the one most potent educational tool in the hands of religion. No other religious subject has anything like the same volume of current literature devoted to it.

Recently there was a great outpouring of appreciation of the work of the Sunday school teacher. The glow of that generous gesture is having widespread consequences. For it is newly realized that these more than two million Sunday school teachers are one of the major educational influences of our day. They shape character. And, while teaching, they are themselves taught. As K. Kirk once wrote:

"I never knew, my Lord,
The beauty of Thy word;
Its rich and hidden depths;
The wonders that it keeps
Within the seeker's reach—
Until I came to teach.
Thy Word anew I sought;
In teaching, I am taught."

Angry Officer Shot Mayor and 2 Others And Killed Himself

JEANPERETTE, La., Dec. 6.—(AP)—Mayor Sidney J. Bourgeois demanded Night Marshal Ben Leblanc's badge at the Town council meeting last night and the night marshal answered the demand with bullets—four of them. One critically wounded the mayor, another wounded a councilman, E. I. Leblanc, and a third wounded a spectator. With the fourth the angry officer killed himself.

Mayor Bourgeois had charged the officer with neglect of duty. Two simple saints, Priscilla and Aquila, who themselves could not preach like Apollos, took him quietly aside and taught him more fully the way—the earliest Sunday school teachers. Thereafter there was a deal of Priscilla and Aquila in everything Apollos said.

For more than a generation I have known a lovely Christian woman—she was the town's belle when first I knew her; now she is a grandmother—who married a young minister and settled in an Ohio city. Full of zeal, they recruited their Sunday school from the slums. One boy she gathered in who was incredibly unfortunate in his life. She won him to Christ, fired him with the great Christian ambitions; and today that man is the most eminent preacher in one of our great cities, a power in his community and in his denomination.

and process but will proceed relentlessly.

It is estimated today that some 2,000 Hungarians already have been deported and the number is increasing daily.

About 300 luckless former Hungarians have found themselves without a country. This group was composed of men and women who renounced Hungarian citizenship preparatory to becoming Yugoslavs. Hungary has thrown them out and Yugoslavia will not permit them to return. They are living in three trains stranded in "no man's land" at the Hungarian-Yugoslav frontier.

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Dec. 6.—(AP)—The Hungarian government decided today to place before the League of Nations the expulsion and alleged ill-treatment of hundreds of Hungarian citizens by Yugoslavia.

Government officials are already at Szeged and other frontier stations taking testimony of refugees concerning their summary ejection and alleged mistreatment.

So apprehensive is the government, however, that the situation may lead to an open break with Yugoslavia all newspapers are instructed not to print anything about the number or condition of the refugees entering their homeland.

There has been tension between the countries since the assassination of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and the subsequent Yugoslav charge at Geneva that Hungary was involved in the crime.

No Reprisal Planned.

A government spokesman said Hungary would be justified in expelling Yugoslav citizens living in this country but would not resort to this reprisal until the matter is aired at Geneva.

The Hungarian minister to Belgrade, hurriedly summoned by the government to report on the situation, arrived this morning for a conference with Premier Gombosi.

Several hundred of the refugees already have reached Budapest and the excitement here is intense. Angry threats have been uttered against Yugoslavia.

In addition to the 20 government representatives at Szeged, another commission is to be sent there tonight.

Police have been mobilized to prevent outward demonstrations and incidents likely to embroil this country further with Yugoslavia.

The police are keeping an especially vigilant eye on the university students who it was feared would attempt violent manifestations against Yugoslavia.

boring diligently to prevent serious incidents at the Yugoslav-Hungarian border.

Refugees told listeners that the Yugoslav army was in an ugly mood. They said Hungarian residents in Yugoslavia had been pulled out of bed in the middle of the night and made to walk half-dressed to a railroad station where a train was waiting to take them to the border. In one case, it was alleged, that soldiers had extinguished all the lamps in the streets so that the public could not see the half-naked Hungarians being marched to the station.

Refugees Cross Border.

SZEGED, Hungary, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Long lines of Hungarian refugees ejected from Yugoslavia because of Yugoslav resentment over their countrymen's alleged complicity in the assassination of King Alexander streamed over the border into their homeland today.

Exhausted, bedraggled and dejected, they told harrowing stories of hardships. Some were barefoot, some coatless, others were sick. From some came tales of severe treatment by Yugoslav soldiers. Many related they were evicted without warning and given no time to gather their baggage and household effects or withdraw deposits from the banks.

Most of them carried their few possessions in bandanas at the end of sticks. Scores of the refugees said they had lived in Yugoslavia 30 and 40 years and had all but forgotten their native tongue.

So far 1,400 of the deportees have plodded across the border. As many more were expected tomorrow. Among today's arrivals were two 65-year-old women leading their 86-year-old blind father.

A four-year-old, barefoot girl had lost both her parents in her flight. A young mother arrived with the newborn babe to which she gave birth along the route.

There were many accounts of refugees being forced to depart in trains without heat, food or water. Others, less fortunate, said they were compelled to make the long trek on foot.

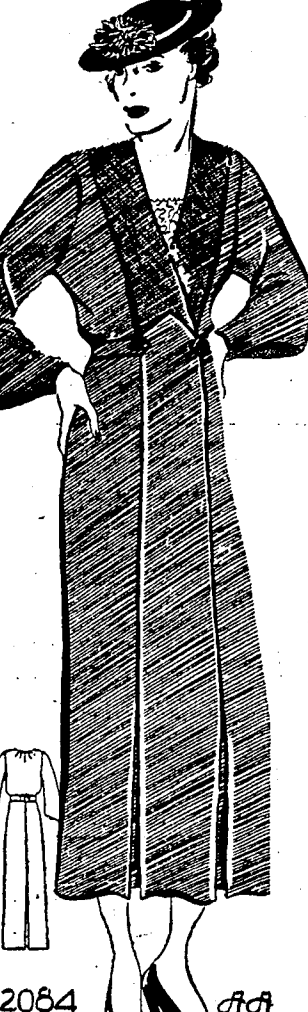

Many of the weary throng were cared for in homes, hospitals and school houses here. Others tramped on in search of friends, relatives or hospitable strangers in the interior of Hungary.

The other robber carried a pistol. "When I raised my hands," Hamilton pointed the gun at me, he ordered me to put them down, cursing me as he walked toward me." Forest said. "I put my hands down and Hamilton told me to open the safe and be quick about it. I did as he said, and when he had scooped up the money, he and the other man backed out of the door, ran to their car and the three men sped away toward Fort Worth."

They were driving a two-door sedan (Ford V-8), Forest said.

FULL INFORMATION ON BANKHEAD ACT VOTING DEC. 14TH

VOTING PLACES IN COUNTY AND THOSE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE ANNOUNCED

A list of the voting places and elections judges for the Bankhead act referendum on Friday, December 14, was announced Thursday by members of the county committee of the Navarro County Cotton Producers Control Association. In most instances the voting places used in the primary and general election will be used.

The voting places where voters may cast their ballots as to whether they desire the continuation of the Bankhead act in 1935 will open at 9 a. m. Friday and close at 5 p. m. Lists of eligible voters in each voting precinct have been prepared and will be distributed to each along with the ballot for the election. Results of the election will be tabulated by the county committee on December 15, the day following the election.

The following regulations have been made on eligibility to vote:

"Any person who signed a 1934 and 1935 Cotton Acreage Reduction contract, any person who is or was eligible for tax exemption certificates in 1934, any person who presents proof that he owns and has present right to produce cotton, on a cotton farm, or any person who signs (by signature or other mark) and files a witnessed written statement that he has made arrangements to produce cotton on a cotton farm in 1935 (that is, has entered into a lease or share-cropping agreement to grow cotton on a cotton farm in 1935), is deemed eligible to vote on the continuation of the Bankhead act for the crop year 1935-36 (June 1, 1935 to May 31, 1936). (A cotton farm is any farm on which cotton has been produced commercially one or more years since 1927).

Special Notations.

The following notations are also made:

"In case ownership and the present right to produce cotton on such cotton farm is held jointly, in common, or in community, by two or more persons, all of such persons shall be entitled to vote.

"In case several persons, such as husband, wife, and children, participate in the production of cotton under a lease or share-cropping agreement, only the person or persons who signed or entered into the lease or share-cropping agreement and thereby acquired the legal or equitable right to produce cotton shall be eligible to vote.

The committee announced that for the four Corsicana city boxes, and three rural boxes immediately adjacent to the city limits, a single voting place would be used located in the Corsicana City Hall. This box will receive the ballots of those eligible in Wards 1, 2, 3, and 4, and from Zions Rest, Oak Valley, and White's Chapel. The elections officials for this box will be G. G. Graham, Shelby Hicks, George W. Boyd, John Garner, Wade Smith, and Walter Carter.

he maintained the substantial foundation for security and peace which has thus been laid.

"Abandonment now of the principles involved would lead to conditions of insecurity, of international suspicion, and of costly competition with no real advantage to any nation."

Great Britain, Japan and the United States discovered at the Washington conference, he explained, that it was impossible to reach an agreement through academic discussion of a nation's naval needs or what it required to satisfy its national pride.

Co-Operation Effective.

Through co-operation, Davis declared, the chances of reaching a promoting peace in the Far East and Pacific reached agreements which "establishes an equilibrium of political and economic rights and made possible naval limitation on the basis of essential equality of the United States."

"No nation," he said, "attempted to impose its will on others, but each was willing to contribute something substantial to the achievement of the ends desired."

The United States, Davis recalled, voluntarily scrapped warships which would have given it naval primacy.

The essence of the Washington treaty was equality of security, Davis asserted, and an attempt to replace that principle with equality of armament would nullify that security.

Favors Naval Reduction.

"The United States favors a progressive reduction in naval armaments," he said, "in accordance with the principles established in the Washington and London treaties and, under instructions from the president, I have proposed a substantial all-around reduction in naval armaments to be effected in such a way as not to alter the relative strengths or to jeopardize the security of the participating nations as established by these treaties."

"Following agreement upon any reduction, I have made known would nevertheless be prepared to abide by the Washington treaty and renew the London treaty with only such modifications in detail as circumstances require and as meet the whole-hearted support of the other parties thereto."

TERRORISM

"White Armies" in civil warfare followed the Bolshevik revolution, nor had they achieved prominence since.

The court at Leningrad said the convicted men there had endeavored to organize terrorism and that they came in through Finland, Latvia and Poland.

All the cases were tried separately by military collegiums of the supreme court, the communiqué said. The general charge of plotting terrorist acts against the government had been made against the "white guards."

Assassin I. Held.

Leonid Nicoloff, held as Kiroff's assassin, presumably is still being questioned. He was not mentioned in the communiqué.

"Whether any of the 'white guards' was accused of complicity in Kiroff's slaying was not known. Workers have been aroused to a high pitch of indignation over the slaying of Kiroff and demanded stern action against their 'enemies'."

Full military honors were given Kiroff, who was secretary of the party's central executive committee and a member of its political bureau. He was a military hero because his eleventh red army defeated anti-Bolshevik forces in the caucuses in 1919.

More than 300,000 workers passed by his bier in Union Hall before the cremation last night.

ment of state and federal oil regulations.

Senator-Elect Joe Hill of Henderson said "East Texas welcomes enforcement but we want enforcement without discrimination. I don't believe in making fish of one section and fowl of another."

Jules Constantine, president of the Independent Refiners association of East Texas, said "to my way of thinking the days of 'not oil' are over. With proper and just administration in other parts of the state and country, if the system of regulation is not discriminatory, I think we can conquer this situation and operate our plants."

Charles Cope, independent producer, said in his opinion the East Texas field is "the only one being prorated."

Baroness Brings Trouble.

Important pages in the tragic story were left blank by the disappearance of the empress and the death of Dr. Ritter. His mind surging with the turmoil of the isolated island where he had sought peace six years ago, the former dental student died 16 days ago.

He and his mate, Frau Dore Strauch Kierwin, who told Captain Hancock of Loenz's exile, were the first colonists to arrive on the former penal island, once the haunt of pirates.

Three years ago the baroness arrived, bringing with her Lorenz and Philipson, employees of her Paris gown shop. Then came trouble.

Ritter complained of the "arrogant young woman dominating dull young men." There were stories of capturing sailors, casting away a shipwrecked honeymoon couple, a wild woman parading in silk panties with a pistol dangling from her waist by a silver cord.

The Ecuadorian government investigated last January but decided the stories were grotesque exaggerations.

A few months later, Dr. Ritter wrote Captain Hancock conditions were again unbearable and he knew something he dared not write—a story he never told.

Physicians said the disease was cerebro-spinal influenza, a form of meningitis which affects the spine and brain. They said it differed from regular spinal meningitis in that the infection was caused by influenza. The Baker cases were the first of the disease to be reported in Wheeler county.

A. J. Baker, Hoyt Baker and Hoyt's son, Thelma, 12, remained in a serious condition. Physicians held slight hopes for the recovery of Thelma. Mrs. A. Bentley of Canadian, daughter of A. J. Baker was the only member of the family not affected, by the disease.

PILORY CASES TO WORK ON BRICKS IN KENTUCKY CITY

MEN WHO REFUSED WORK OUT DRUNKENNESS FINES GET ULTIMTUM

By ALEX MCNEILL

Associated Press Staff Writer.

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., Dec. 4.

The city of Paintsville has a large pile of old bricks that need cleaning and the three men who stood in a pillory here yesterday soon will have an opportunity to work with other prisoners on them.

That was the ultimatum issued today by City Attorney Clifford F. Pace as he discussed the case. He and Chief of Police Powell Williams disclosed that the three had been in jail several times before on various charges including drunkenness. They were chained to posts on a street near the jail yesterday on orders of Police Judge R. A. Patrick after refusing to work out their fines.

"We won't work out our fines as long as we live," said the three, James Price and William Dills, each 25 years old, and Oscar (Blackie) Pelphrey, 23. They remained in jail today and spoke of their experience in a light vein. Each owes the city $25.00 in fines which each said he could not pay. In lieu of fines city prisoners customarily work on the streets, getting credit at the rate of $1 a day. While in jail no credit on the fines, unless a physician's certificate shows them unable to work. The trio had no such certificates.

"If the boys get away with this, why we might as well close the police department," City Attorney Pace said today.

Boreal in South America if preventive measures were deemed justified.

The Saar will vote Jan. 13 as to whether it will remain under the control of the League of Nations, be annexed to France, or revert to Germany. The general opinion is that the inhabitants will vote to back under German sovereignty, from which they were removed by the treaty of Versailles ending the world war.

Tentative plans provide that the Saar army be composed of 2,000 British, 2,000 Italians, 600 Belgians, and 500 neutrals of the world war including Swedish and Dutch.

Christmas Package

Wrapping

Made Easy

On Christmas morning when the family gathers around the tree or fireplace, don't you get a thrill out of the pretty wrappings, out of guessing what is in the packages? Don't you hope that the prettiest one is for you? It is so much fun to open a pretty package.

Make your gifts the prettiest packages the prettiest on the tree this year. Make them different colors, different shapes, and use different kinds of ribbon. It costs but very little more and really adds lots to the joy of receiving the gift. You'll get a "big kick" out of giving that kind of gift.

If you aren't so good at designing your own packages—go by the City Book Store and look at the packages they have wrapped just to show you how. You can see just how to wrap yours. And they have all the fixings—cards, tags, ribbons, tissue, and cellophane. They have heavy paper for wrapping the gifts to be mailed, too.

MUNITIONS

Senator Clark told Irene Du Pont, munitions manufacturer, at one point that the latter was not "running this investigation."

Knew Shipment Going to China.

With spectators listening intently, Clark introduced evidence concerning a shipment of powder to Holland in 1929 for re-shipment to China.

K. K. V. Casey, Du Pont Company official, conceded his company knew the shipment was going to China.

He said advice of the state department was not sought because that department had no jurisdiction over shipments to Holland.

Testimony developed that the Du Ponts borrowed or rented a United States navy gun to test powder to be sold to China.

"We paid the costs," Casey said, "I think there is a law permitting this."

"It would be interesting to know whether munitions makers have access to government equipment to make tests."

Clark said, "that the United States throughout the war and before we entered it followed a course of action of selling to the allies which set into motion a chain of events that dragged us into the war."

REFERENDUM UPON BANKHEAD BILL BE HELD DECEMBER 14

COTTON FARMERS EXPECT- ED TO DECIDE WHETHER WANT LAW RETAINED

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Dec. 6.—(Sp.)—Friday, December 14, 1934, has been set as the date for the Bankhead referendum throughout the cotton producing states by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, according to information received by H. H. Williamson, vice director and state agent for the extension service.

At this time eligible voters will be asked: "Are you in favor of continuing the Bankhead act for next year (June 1, 1935, to May 31, 1936)?" An eligible voter is defined in the act as a "person who has the legal or equitable right as owner, tenant, sharecropper, or otherwise to produce cotton on any cotton farm, or part thereof, in the United States for the crop year 1935-36."

According to that, any person is eligible who signed a 1934 and 1935 cotton acreage reduction contract as well as any person who is or was eligible for tax exemption certificates in 1934. Any other person is eligible who presents proof that he owns and has a present right to produce cotton on a cotton farm, or any person who signs and files a witnessed statement that he has made arrangements to produce cotton on a cotton farm in 1935 by entering into a lease or sharecropping agreement.

Who May Vote.
It is the right and the right to produce cotton on a cotton farm are held jointly by two or more persons, all such persons are entitled to vote. The term "cotton farm" means any farm on which cotton has been produced commercially one or more years since 1927. Individuals who are in doubt about their eligibility may vote can obtain information from the county committee which will have a list of eligible voters.

Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, defines the impartial attitude of the Adjustment Administration in a statement that will be given to each voter with his ballot. This statement urges cotton farmers to "examine carefully all the facts and reach a decision based upon considered judgment as to whether the Bankhead act is needed to assure attainment of the objective of the cotton adjustment program."

Farmers Must Decide.
"Cotton farmers, a portion of the statement reads, must decide whether in their opinion, the adjustment of cotton production under the voluntary contracts is sufficient to meet the requirements of the present emergency. Will the efforts of a small minority of non-co-operators, the tendency toward more intensive cultivation, and the possibility of new lands coming into cotton production combine to increase total production above the point which seems desirable? That, it appears, is the central question involved in a decision on continuing the Bankhead act for next year. The secretary emphasizes in his statement that the administration is not seeking to impose its views upon the producers and that "it is for the cotton farmers to choose."

The referendum is provided for in the Bankhead act itself. If two-thirds of those who have the legal right to produce cotton favor the continuation of the Bankhead act, and if the president finds and proclaims that an economic emergency in cotton production and marketing will continue to exist, the provisions of the act will be extended to cover the period of the crop year 1935-36.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to take this method of expressing our thanks to our friends who were so kind to us during the illness and death of our dear husband and father. We assure you that your kind deeds will never be forgotten. We also thank those who sent the floral offerings.

PLAN CONFERENCES REGULAR INTERVALS FOR RELIEF WORKERS

PROBLEMS WINTER CANNOT BE ACCURATELY FORECAST AT THIS TIME

Under the new policies of the Texas Relief Administration, a conference between actual field workers and the administrative officers from Austin will be held in each district every 30 to 45 days to discuss new problems, new regulations and accounting changes, according to C. P. Rogers, field representative for the Eleventh Relief district. In the past the meetings have been held about five months apart.

Lateral road projects in Navarro county will supply means for utilizing a large portion of the manpower for budget requirements. Mr. Rogers said, in addition to a number of projects that have been mapped out in the city of Corsicana. He also reported that the case work department was making every effort to induce relief roll clients to use their time profitably after their budget labor requirements have been satisfied, and they are encouraged to find sufficient employment to care for their rent, some of their clothing and other necessities. The case workers are attempting to discourage the idea of mere existence on the grants given them.

Navarro County Typical.
Relief problems of the winter months cannot yet be accurately forecast, Mr. Rogers declared, adding that at the present time Navarro county's relief picture presented a typical view of the entire state. The case load is somewhat larger than for the same period last year for several reasons, according to the field supervisor, but is not expected to increase much more.

He pointed out that the cost of relief could be materially increased for the coming months by severe weather and sickness among the relief clients, adding that the problem was much easier last year because of the mild weather and a resulting decrease in the amount of illness.

Effort To Supply Work.
The field director also pointed out that every effort is being made to supply each client with some form of work relief to replace direct grants of food and clothing, and to further these plans many men are being used on mattress making, women in sewing rooms and canning plants, and on other similar projects.

HOUSTON MAN IS ELECTED BY MASONS AS GRAND MASTER

WACO, Dec. 6.—(P)—John H. Crooker of Houston today was elected grand master of the grand lodge of Texas Masons. He succeeds W. S. Cooke of Fort Worth. Marcus Weathered of Coleman was elected deputy grand master. Other elective officers included Galloway Calhoun, Tyler, grand senior warden; John Temple Rice, El Paso, grand junior warden; J. J. Gallahar, Madlin, re-elected grand treasurer; and W. B. Pearson, Waco, re-elected grand secretary.

Elmer Renfro of Fort Worth was elected to the board of trustees of the Masonic home of that city.

Installation of officers this afternoon and the appointment of district deputy grand masters by Crooker concluded business of the ninety-ninth grand lodge, A. F. and A. M.

The grand lodge school of instruction will open tomorrow for six days.

The grand lodge adopted a new monitor compiled by Jewel P. Lightfoot of Fort Worth.

FINAL DRILLS ARE GIVEN THURSDAY BY TWO COACHES

HUGE CROWD EXPECTED TO JAM TIGER FIELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Final signal drills are scheduled Thursday afternoon for the Corsicana and Athens high school leavers as they prepare for their spectacular duel on Tiger field Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock which will send one of the victors into the quarter-finals of the University of Texas Inter-scholastic league against the winner of the Longview-Greenview game for the Central-East-Northeast Texas sub-championship.

Corsicana Tigers looked impressive Wednesday afternoon in their final hard drill. Blocking, passing and punting plays were executed in a fashion that must have been pleasing to the mentors as they drove their charges up and down the field with the reserves on the receiving end of vicious thrusts and charges.

All in Shape. All hands were in tip-top condition and were entering into the practice sessions which caused former Tigers and ardent enthusiasts to exclaim in admiration and approbation. The teams looked ready for the "Big Game" Friday afternoon.

While the two mentors were making their last-minute plans for the highly important melees, the players and fans of the two teams were also busy. The Corsicana team will be lined up in the entire Central-East Texas section were making their plans to be in the city of Tiger field Friday afternoon when the tick-off is made. The Athens team will be lined up for this classic Friday. Reports reaching Corsicana are to the effect that all members of the team—the Athens district—will have large delegations. Palestina, Hubbard, Waco, Tamm, Hillsboro, Waxahatchie, Cleburne and others are assured of many of fans here Friday afternoon.

Student tickets will be on sale at the office of O. P. Douglas, principal of Corsicana high school, at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. The Hornets are scheduled to arrive at 12:30 o'clock. The club will make the trip in a specially chartered bus.

There has been some talk and speculation for the local merchants to close during the game, but the school has not received any official notification of any such contemplated plan.

The gates at Tiger field will be opened about 12:30 Friday afternoon.

The coaching has announced his playing lineup, but the probable starters include:

Probable Starters.

Corsicana—Langston, 170, ends; Asberry, 185, tackles; McElwraith, 175, ends; George, 155, or McElwraith, 150, guards; Sharp, 150, quarter; Smith, 140, and Humphries, 140, halfbacks; Dowd, 140, halves; Smith, 140, fullback.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

The latest in millinery—chic high cuff brims... youthful off-the-face styles.
Liana Merwin

Many of the new hats are close-fitting with cuff brims, especially designed to snug into the oversized fur collar of this season's coat. Off-the-face models are being revived and are well thought of, too—as they possess youthful style. These models are often turned up at back for comfortable wear with fur collared wraps. It is quite important, according to the best style authorities, for women of 40 or over to stay away from off-the-face types. While they are considered a youthful style, they are too revealing and not so easy to wear or the women of middle age.

Sketched at top is a smartly styled turban of quilted, black tulle with a Chinese influence. The high cuff brim is fitted and shaped to the head, dipping slightly both front and back. The peaked crown is ornamented with a bar of rhinestones and crystals. Below is shown an off-the-face model in black belting de sole, a "sweet" style in a Dutch cap effect. The brim turns up at front and is held in place with a rhinestone clip, while at back it turns up abruptly and is shirred. This crown is also peaked and manipulated as most crowns are this season.

SPORT NOTES

By PAUL MOORE — Sun Sports Editor

HOW THEY LOOK THIS WEEK
Corsicana 19, Athens 10.
Amarillo 13, Ranger 7.
El Paso 13, Big Spring 6.
Vernon 7, Highland Park 6.
Dallas Tech 7, Masonic Home 6.
Greenville 13, Longview 0.
Jeff Davis (Houston) 7, Beaumont 0.
Corpus Christi 13, Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) 7.

Corsicana and Athens both have strong offensive ball clubs and several counties will likely result in the event if weather conditions are not encountered. We believe Corsicana has a stronger running attack than the Henderson county boys while the aerial attacks are both dangerous.

A great offensive team and one of the best defensive units of the country clash Saturday in Dallas when the Dallas Tech Wolves meet the Masonic Home of Fort Worth. The Tech crew scored 22 points recently against Hillsboro while the Masons are powerful from a defensive standpoint. El Paso has the best club in the history of that section while the Big Spring crew is regarded as slightly under par. Vernon and Highland Park are regarded as a toss-up and a victory for the Scots would not be an upset. Greenville, defending state champions, should not be hard pressed by the Longview club. Jeff Davis is given the nod over the Beaumont Royal Purple while Corpus Christi is regarded as the strongest team ever developed in the Rio Grande Valley. Thomas Jefferson, representing the San Antonio sector, is not expected to be as strong as the rackeridge Eagles in 1932 and 1933 when they represented that section.

Beaumont started the Inter-scholastic league followers by kicking out the favorite Port Arthur Jackets 2-0, in a mud-battle. The writer believes the Houston entry will win, but remembering the proficiency the Purple displays on muddy grid-irons.

Sam Beardon, president of the Cardinals, has announced the negotiations for the sale of his holdings to an Oklahoma multi-millionaire had been ended.

Temple Wildcats will play the Fort Worth Patriots eleven Friday or Saturday, Dec. 14-15, in Fort Worth in a post-season game. Temple finished in second place in the Corsicana district while Poly Tech, Masonic Home twice in the Fort Worth district chase, losing on penalties on the second occasion. This should prove a thriller.

TOTAL ABSTINENCE MAY GAIN PARDON TARRANT COUNTY MAN

ADDITIONAL CLEMENCIES ARE ANNOUNCED BY GOVERNOR

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—(P)—If S. H. Newton abstains from the use of liquor, he may be free from a life prison sentence, assessed in Tarrant county in March, 1929, upon conviction of murder.

Newton received a conditional pardon today from Governor Miriam A. Ferguson with acceptance of these terms:

"On condition that the defendant obeys the law with the express condition that if he drinks intoxicating liquor, whether sufficient in amount to produce intoxication or not, the defendant accepts the conditional pardon with the understanding that such drinking of intoxicating liquor shall be grounds for revocation of such pardon by the governor."

Newton's conditional pardon was one of seven granted by the governor, who also filed a full pardon, a commutation of sentence and one revocation of a conditional pardon.

The conditional pardon granted Bob Hanna June 21, 1934, was revoked. Hanna was convicted in Tarrant county in November, 1932, of car theft and sentenced to five years.

Sentences totaling 14 years assessed Seth A. Howard in Cooke, Van Zandt, Wise, Ellis, Denton, Collin, Eastland and Kaufman counties, for burglary and concealing stolen property, theft, burglary and accomplice to burglary, were reduced to two years from February 1, 1934, date of his conviction.

Joyce Howell, convicted in Taylor and Palo Pinto counties in November, 1932, of robbery and robbery with fire arms, and sentenced to five years, received a full pardon, recently he was granted a conditional pardon.

Other conditional pardons included Solon O'Dell, Taylor county, September, 1933, murder, twenty years; Paul Cawthon, Smith County, April, 1934, theft, one year; and receiving and concealing stolen property, two years, and Whipple Allison, Wichita county, March, 1934, arson, two years.

PROGRAM OF MUSIC AND READINGS HEARD BY CIVITANS TODAY

PLANS DISCUSSED FOR ANNUAL TIGER LOYALTY BANQUET THIS YEAR

A program of vocal, piano and reading numbers, by two of Corsicana's most popular and versatile entertainers, and a large volume of business occupied the attention of Civitan club members at their luncheon program Thursday noon at the Navarro hotel.

The question of the annual Civitan club's Tiger Loyalty banquet was brought up, and after considerable discussion, by the club members, President Fields C. Paul named the general chairman and several committees to have charge of all the arrangements.

County Superintendent G. H. Brown was appointed general chairman, and toastmaster. The general arrangements committee is composed of Dr. J. Wilson Dabney, Marvin Thomas, Fesus A. Pierce, and Ed Rittersbacher. Robert Cason, Roy Feebles and Elbert Neely will have charge of the decorations, and O. F. Allen, O. P. Douglas, and Charles Banister were named to secure the speaker. Ticket sales will be handled by Ed Wendell, N. Suttis, Roberts and Pat Barton.

Next week's program committee was named by President Paul and includes T. C. Orr, and Ed Rittersbacher.

Mr. Peabody presented Miss Kathleen Neal in the spontaneous applause with an encore. Her first reading delineated the trials and tribulations of a newly-married couple over the preparations and disposition of a pudding.

Six State Home Players Land On District Teams

By ROBERT TULEY

TEAGUE, Dec. 6.—Two State Home players landed on the first team and four more either made or tied for places on the second team compiled from the all-district choices of the following sports writers of district 21-B: Weldon Hill of Groesbeck, George Lee of Mexia, Mike Rinehart of Corsicana, and Robert Tuley of Teague.

A mention on the first club of one of the four chosen meant two votes, with second team mention being worth one vote. The one tie on the first team was awarded to Mason instead of Lath or Williams because he received two first team mentions and one second instead of one first team and three seconds.

Five members of the Teague Lions, champions of the district made the first team, with two others on the second squad. Mexia landed three places on both teams, Groesbeck made seven berths, and Ennis two, counting the ties.

Results of the compilation follows, with the votes being shown after their layer's name. In case two numbers follow the name, it means that the second number represents votes garnered at some position:

First Team.
Pannell, State Home LE
Weir, Mexia LT
Lancaster, Teague LG
Tolar, Ennis CG
McSwane, Teague RT
Keys, Teague RE
McLelland, Groesbeck QE
Thomas, State Home LH
Mason, Groesbeck FE

AVIRETT PLEADS NOT GUILTY WHEN ARRAIGNED TODAY

WACO, Dec. 6.—(P)—Joe Bailey Avirett pleaded not guilty today when arraigned for trial on a charge of murder for the highway slaying of James Malcolm Stewart near Waco last month.

After Judge D. W. Bartlett overruled a defense motion to quash the special venire of 200 men because they were summoned by the sheriff instead of in person, selection of jurors began.

Stewart, 25, of Katy, Texas, was shot to death when he allegedly resisted the efforts of two young men to rob him. His body was left in his car parked on a country lane near Waco.

Murder charges were filed against Avirett and Joe Curry. Recently the Curry trial was postponed when the defense moved for a severance.

County Superintendent G. H. Brown was appointed general chairman, and toastmaster. The general arrangements committee is composed of Dr. J. Wilson Dabney, Marvin Thomas, Fesus A. Pierce, and Ed Rittersbacher. Robert Cason, Roy Feebles and Elbert Neely will have charge of the decorations, and O. F. Allen, O. P. Douglas, and Charles Banister were named to secure the speaker. Ticket sales will be handled by Ed Wendell, N. Suttis, Roberts and Pat Barton.

Next week's program committee was named by President Paul and includes T. C. Orr, and Ed Rittersbacher.

Mr. Peabody presented Miss Kathleen Neal in the spontaneous applause with an encore. Her first reading delineated the trials and tribulations of a newly-married couple over the preparations and disposition of a pudding.

Surprise Shower For Bride of Few Days on Wednesday
Mrs. Henry Call, a bride of only a few days, was the honoree of a lovely bridge party and surprise shower on Wednesday evening, given by her friend, Miss Margaret Joe Isom and her mother, Mrs. Joe J. Isom, at their home, 1309 West Thirteenth avenue.

Three tables for bridge were arranged in the living room which was decorated artistically with autumn leaves of rich and varied hues. Placed on the tables for the game were found by means of tallies in autumn design, and all were in their places when the honoree arrived, not dreaming that a party was being given for her.

At the conclusion of the game, Mrs. Dave Megarity was awarded the high score for her and Nellie Rose Eubank the low. They, in turn, presented the favors to the honoree.

A messenger boy arrived at this time with a telegram for Mrs. Call which read, "Follow the trail from 1309 West Thirteenth avenue to the hidden treasure."

She was given a ribbon to follow which led from the front room through the bed room into the dining room where the gift packages were found piled about the base of a Christmas tree that centered the table. The tree was gaily bedecked with Christmas bulbs, bangles and colored lights.

The packages were opened by Mrs. Call and passed around by all to admire.

A refreshment plate of sandwiches, fruit salad, coffee and cake was served by the hostesses to the following: Mrs. Call, Mrs. Dave Megarity, Mrs. Terry McCrary, Mrs. A. C. Aechternacht, Misses Nell Rose Butler, Loraine Butler, Eva Ruth Nixon, Lois Langston, Della Mae Bunch and Frances Garvin.

TENDERS REQUIRED FOR MOVEMENT OIL AND ITS PRODUCTS

NEW ORDER OF RAIL COM- MISSION WILL APPLY TO ALL TEXAS FIELDS

AUSTIN, Dec. 5.—The Texas Railroad Commission, enforcer of state conservation laws, today, struck its latest blow at interstate traffic in illegally produced petroleum and its products. It instituted a system designed to trace and regulate by requiring tenders, every movement of crude and its products.

New regulations effective Dec. 10, were applied to all Texas fields and to all classifications of crude and products. The system contemplated interstate control as effected in interstate commerce by the department of Interior through enforcement of Section 9-C of the national industrial recovery act.

Two orders were promulgated by the commission to effect their plan to require tenders on petroleum and products for all fields. The one requiring tenders on crude oil applied to all fields except East Texas, in which the rule has been effective since February, 1932. The products order, of state application, was patterned after the commission's order of August, which was invalidated in court proceedings.

The commission said the state-wide tender requirement prohibited the movement of any crude oil product from every refinery, topping plant or other plant where products are manufactured, unless the shipper obtained a permit from the commission. The permit, whether by pipeline, railroad, truck or otherwise, would be prohibited from moving products from an oil field without having an appended copy of the commission's permit.

The crude tender order established a state-wide system similar to that in force now in East Texas, in which oil from the field of its production in Texas to its final delivery to a refinery or consignee would be registered with the commission.

Under the tender order, each producer was required to file a report of authorization, designating a transporter to either the oil or product from the field. The transporter was required to file with the commission a forecast report on the amount of oil to be transported from the leases.

The commission adopted another form, termed the transporter's report, of defining the amount of oil and other consignees, to be filed monthly, in which the amount of oil actually delivered to such consignees was required to be registered.

The commission provided for the filing of reports of authorization by producers and the initial transporter's report within ten days from the effective date, permitting transporters in the meantime to continue to transport oil from the field.

Noting that Texas statutes prohibited transportation, purchase or handling of oil produced in violation of regulations, the commission announced its intention was to establish a system of registration in which movement of lawfully produced oil could be registered. The order expressly provided that registration of movement would not validate illegal transportation.

The system set up for regulating movement of products was explained in a prepared statement by the commission. It required each person possessing crude or a product on the effective date, to file within ten days from December 10 a written inventory, under oath, setting forth the amount of crude oil or products, properly classified, and stating the location and ownership of the property containing the crude or products.

Shall Identify Tender Number
The order further provides that where the oil on hand has been secured from a field where a tender of oil has heretofore existed, the inventory shall identify the tender number by right of which the oil in question was secured. The applicant for a permit is required to file with the commission a statement, under oath, showing the source of the crude oil or crude oil products from which the oil product was processed or manufactured which he desires to ship and, where the product is produced from crude oil secured by authority of approved tenders, is required to identify on his application the approved or registered tender by authority of which he secured the crude oil. Where the products are manufactured from oil which was in being on the effective date of the order, and which oil was included in the inventory filed with the commission by such applicant, in such case the applicant is required to identify the inventory number from which the oil was procured which was utilized in the manufacture of the product covered by the application.

No Hot Oil Approval
The order provided no application for a permit would be approved to cover transportation of a product processed from oil produced in violation of state laws or commission regulations. It forbade the shipment of any product unless a permit had been issued.

As inventories were not required on products on hand until ten days after the effective date, the commission provided for issuance of temporary permits authorizing movement of crude products or manufactured from crude in and at the effective date. In such events, inventories were required to indicate that temporary permits had been issued.

Each transporting agency was required to receive an approved copy of the permit for transportation. Shippers were permitted to obtain forecast tenders for future deliveries to prevent a burdensome routine. Likewise, the commis-

CHARGED AMERICAN MAKERS OF ARMS SHIPPED WAR MATERIALS INTO FORBIDDEN TERRITORIES

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A statement that Nobel, Ltd., British munitions firm, founded by the donor of the international peace prize, was guilty of "winking" at the re-arming of Germany in violation of the Versailles treaty was presented today to the senate munitions committee.

The committee also received evidence that the state department in 1925 recognized the allies were complying with Germany in violating the Versailles treaty because permitting illegal manufacture of explosives in Germany "swelled the reparations fund."

Correspondence between the Du Pont Company and its foreign department drew the charge of "winking" from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) who was conducting the inquiry.

One of the letters plainly said Nobel could have brought pressure on the British government to stop violation of the peace pact by German manufacture of explosives, but did not do so because of its German connection.

The evidence about the state department was in a letter from the state department to a Washington representative, to his company, reporting on a conversation he had with Allen W. Dulles, chief of the department's Near Eastern division.

The letter said in reference to manufacture and export of explosives from Germany in violation of the treaty:

"Mr. Dulles said he was well aware of this and that he was also aware that powder and other munitions were continually shipped out of Germany with the commission's knowledge since the regulation of sales of munitions swelled the reparations fund."

Irene Du Pont, on the witness stand, took issue with Vandenberg's placing blame on the Nobel Company.

He characterized it as "rank nonsense" to blame munitions manufacturers for not enforcing the treaty when the government was growing out of this conference concerned undoubtedly had the same information the companies had.

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Evidence that European chancellors and munitions makers generally have known for 10 years that Germany was re-arming in violation of the Versailles treaty was presented today to the senate munitions committee.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), conducting the inquiry, said it was "amazing" there was apparently so much authentic information and yet no public protest over violation of the treaty.

He previously had said re-arming was brought about by forces "more powerful than governments."

So far Secretary Morgenthau has preferred to give the legal campaign against the illicit trade of a trial before urging lower taxes. Since repeal became effective on the evening of December 5, 1933, federal agents have seized 10,947 stills, arrested 21,620 persons and convicted about 1,500.

Dr. James M. Doran, head of the distilled spirits code authority, said legal consumption of spirits has been only about one-half of the more conservative estimate made one year ago. He called for stiffer law enforcement.

Government officials estimated the people have drunk 42,000,000 gallons of distilled spirits and 35,000,000 barrels of beer.

K. K. V. Casey, an official of the Du Pont Company, who was testifying jointly with his chief, Irene Du Pont, munitions manufacturer, conceded the munitions industry knew Germany was re-arming.

He said the company passed on its information to the American Military and Naval Intelligence, but not to the state department.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Senate munitions investigators said today they had new evidence that American arms manufacturers brushed aside treaties and embargoes to ship their implements of war into Germany and China.

Members of the investigating committee asserted their evidence revealed flagrant violation of the spirit of the Versailles treaty in the sale of arms to Germany. Re-arming of the Reich, they added, was used as a lever to bring military appropriations in other European countries.

Back of this evidence were documents which showed, investigators said, that American manufacturers paid little heed to the American embargo on shipments of arms to China.

They used these sales in turn, it was alleged, to sell more products to Japan.

Before turning today to treating the new sales in public hearing, the committee had uncovered evidence in an attempt to show a concerted effort by arms makers in America and abroad to thwart the Geneva conference called in 1925 to restrict traffic in war materials.

The evidence was that American manufacturers gathered at the call of Herbert Hoover, then secretary of Commerce, to express their views on the proposed treaty. Letters from the files of the state department indicated a growing out of this conference succeeded in modifying the pact.

Chairman Nye (R-N.D.) said one of these, and commented that Hoover should be credited with a put out, and the arms makers with a put in.

Irene Du Pont, prominent munitions manufacturer, said the Du Pont company made "no attempt whatsoever to influence the delegates to any international conference called in 1925 to restrict traffic in war materials."

The committee produced correspondence between members of the munitions makers committee and the Hoover conference to show they sought treaty reservations under which "we will be safe from any interference from this generation at least."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—On repeal's first anniversary today the bootlegger remains such a menace to government revenues and the legal trade that Secretary of the treasury Morgenthau is reported to be preparing a radio appeal to consumers to buy only legitimate stuff.

Strong demands that taxes be slashed are being prepared for the next congress on the theory this would hamper the bootlegger.

So far Secretary Morgenthau has preferred to give the legal campaign against the illicit trade of a trial before urging lower taxes. Since repeal became effective on the evening of December 5, 1933, federal agents have seized 10,947 stills, arrested 21,620 persons and convicted about 1,500.

Dr. James M. Doran, head of the distilled spirits code authority, said legal consumption of spirits has been only about one-half of the more conservative estimate made one year ago. He called for stiffer law enforcement.

WITNESS QUOTES YOUNG KENNAMER ON GORRELL DEATH

SAYS WAS SHOWN EXTORTION NOTE; AUTHORITIES SEEK OTHERS

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 4.—(AP)—City officers pressed toward a conclusion today their investigation of the strange slaying of John Gorrell, 23, by 19-year-old Phil Kennamer Thanksgiving night.

Henry B. Maddux, police criminologist, said he would complete his preliminary inquiry during the day.

During the morning, however, he questioned two or three other persons then conferred with city attorney and County Attorney Holly Anderson.

The chief local turn the investigation took was the surprise disclosure of Robert Thomas, a boy in his late teens, that Kennamer, son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer, told him about midnight Thanksgiving that he had just killed Gorrell.

Thinking Kennamer was joking, the Thomas boy retorted: "Did you do a good job of it?"

"Yes, I did," Thomas quoted Kennamer as saying.

The boy told his story last night to an assistant county attorney, saying he had met Kennamer at a cafe and the conversation followed.

"I forgot the entire conversation until the papers said Kennamer was in Tulsa," he said, and then I told my parents about it. They thought I'd better tell the officers," said Thomas.

Meanwhile, officers grew somewhat less interested in the whereabouts of Robert Thomas, the "night" Gorrell was found shot to death in the exclusive Forest Hills addition.

George Dye, uncle of the boy, said he was informed by Homer F. Wilcox, Sr., wealthy oil man, that the youth was at home at the time of the shooting.

TULSA, Okla., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Phil Kennamer, 19-year-old son of a federal judge, was quoted today by Robert Thomas, 19, a companion, as saying he killed John F. Gorrell, Jr., because of an extortion note Kennamer told Gorrell wrote.

Thomas, in a signed statement made before John F. Conway, assistant county prosecutor, said Kennamer confided to him he shot and killed the 23-year-old dental student of the Versailles hotel, demanding $20,000 from Homer F. Wilcox, Sr., Tulsa oil man, under threat of kidnapping his daughter, Virginia Wilcox.

Kennamer, son of Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer, pleaded not guilty yesterday when arraigned on a charge of murder in the first degree. An examination of the youth by mental experts was ordered by county attorney Holly Anderson.

Told of Shooting
Thomas, in his statement to Conway, said Kennamer told him about the shooting last Thursday night at a suburban cafe 15 minutes before Gorrell's body was found.

"He then said he killed Gorrell because of that extortion note," Thomas' statement said.

"What extortion note? I asked him. This one, he said. Read it. I told him I didn't want to read it. He insisted and handed me an envelope. It was sealed but had never been mailed. I don't believe there is any name or address on the envelope. There were three sheets of writing paper in the envelope. I think the letter was written in black ink. It wasn't typewritten."

"I didn't pay much attention to the note but I remember it said Mr. Wilcox didn't pay a $20,000 ransom they were going to kidnap his daughter Virginia Wilcox. I remember it said that when he was to get in touch with him he was to identify himself over the telephone as H. W. As I remember it the letter was signed 'Mr. X. I'm not sure of that though.'"

"Phil said Gorrell sure was a dirty rat."

"Phil said he killed John Gorrell because of this extortion note written by John. He said it was the work of a gang in Kansas City. I didn't pay much attention to any of the conversation because I didn't believe it. It was the first time I had heard Phil mention Gorrell's name. I didn't know."

Before Thomas was questioned County Attorney Anderson said he was seeking Homer F. Wilcox, Jr., 17, for questioning. Anderson said he felt the boy could "help clear up some perplexing angles" of the case.

The elder Wilcox was reported en route to New York.

Wilcox at Loss to Understand Mixup

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Homer F. Wilcox, Tulsa, Okla., oil man, said today that his son, Homer F. Wilcox, Jr., wanted for questioning in connection with the slaying of John F. Gorrell, was "on a Christmas shopping trip and will be back in Tulsa in two or three days."

His daughter, Virginia, he said shortly after his arrival here on the Twentieth Century Limited, was with her brother.

Wilcox said he could not understand the mixup, but his family had become involved in a substantial shooting case. A friend of Phil Kennamer, 19, who has been arraigned on a murder charge for the slaying of Gorrell, has been freed by officials as saying that Kennamer killed Gorrell because of an extortion note demanding $20,000 from Wilcox under threat of abducting his daughter.

He knew of no extortion note, of counterfeit liquor in stores and dispensaries still is serious.

Ann Fights Bannister for Child

Breakup of the harmony which existed in the marriage and divorce of Ann Harding, screen star, and Harry Bannister was threatened in counter court actions in Reno, Nev., over the custody of their daughter, Jane, shown above. While Bannister threatened to fight the reported action, Miss Harding was in Reno for the asserted purpose of seeking exclusive care of the child instead of the ten months yearly guardianship allotted her when she was divorced from Bannister in 1932.

COUZENS CHALLENGES BORAH TO TAKE REINS REPUBLICAN PARTY AND REORGANIZE SAME

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Senator Couzens, Michigan, today received a challenge today from Senator Borah (R-Mich.) to take the chairmanship and suggest a new platform.

He said Borah like Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, campaigned against aspects of the new deal but "neither one was successful because they offered no substitutes for the programs they criticized."

The Michigan senator's entry into the party controversy came shortly after Henry P. Fletcher, chairman of the Republican National committee, had flatly declined to resign at Borah's request.

To step out at this time, Fletcher said, "would plunge the party organization into confusion." He pointed out the machinery by which the party could obtain new leadership if it wanted it.

Representative Fish (R-N.Y.) also took issue with Borah, saying that while the party could "liberalize and humanize its policies," Fletcher should not be called upon to resign "provided he is willing to go along in favor of liberal policies."

Couzens statement, coming from one who has frequently voted with the party's Western independent wing where demands for reorganization are now arising, caused some surprise.

"I suggest," he said, "that those who are supporting Mr. Borah's proposal that Mr. Fletcher resign offer Mr. Borah the chairmanship of the republican national committee."

"I am just as anxious as Mr. Roosevelt is to have the country recover, but I do not intend to assume a destructive attitude whether I be a Borah republican or a Fletcher republican or neither of these things."

Certain prominent republican senators have been carrying on devastating campaigns, or at least plans to invade the party, against the new deal. Borah did it in Idaho and Senator Reed in Pennsylvania and I can't see much difference between the two."

Recalling that he had offered back in 1924 to finance a Borah-for-president campaign, he said he was now deeply obligated to Borah for refusing because if he had accepted it would have been a terrible catastrophe for the country.

THREAT TO KIDNAP EUGENIE H. GREW REPORTED BOSTON CLOSE GUARD PROMPTLY ESTABLISHED BY POLICE AND JUSTICE AGENTS

MANCHESTER, Mass., Dec. 6.—An attempt to kidnap Eugenie H. Grew, 17, his adopted daughter, had today driven the family of Randolph Clark Grew, brother of Joseph C. Grew, U. S. ambassador to Japan, into seclusion while federal agents strove to run down the would-be kidnappers.

Before withdrawing from outside communication, Grew authorized the statement: "Federal agents are taking care of this case from Washington."

Grew was said to have appealed to Washington after he had received two letters threatening the abduction of the girl, daughter of his second wife, the former Mrs. Helen Jones Grew. The climax of the plot was reported reached when a car filled with the alleged kidnappers trailed the girl to the gate of Grew's Manchester-by-the-Sea estate.

While the family preserved strict secrecy, it was reported the kidnappers were frightened away Monday night as they reached the gate when Mrs. Grew illuminated the estate with flood lights.

Heavily armed federal agents hastened to the scene in response to Grew's appeal, and set a trap.

ASSERTED LONG VIOLENTLY CURSED REVEILLE EDITOR

SWORN STATEMENT INDICATES LOUISIANA DICTATOR RULES UNIVERSITY

BATON ROUGE, La., Dec. 4.—(AP)—The assertion that he had heard Senator Huey P. Long, violently curse Jesse H. Cutrer, editor of the "Reveille," Louisiana State University campus paper, and threaten to "fire" any University student who "dared" say a word against Huey Long, was sworn to today by David R. McGuire, one of four students dismissed in a dispute over "Reveille censorship."

Cutrer and several other journalism students involved in the controversy, which resulted in the resignation of editors of the publication, the suspension and reinstatement of 22 students and the "indefinite suspension" of the students, also made sworn accounts of the "censorship" situation in affidavits.

McGuire, who says President James M. Smith of L. S. U. told him he was "expelled" in connection with a petition protesting "censorship," gave by affidavit what he said was an account of how the campus publication trouble began.

Long Copy
McGuire asserted that the difficulty started when Senator Long, saw a sheet torn from the "Reveille" containing a letter from a student criticizing his bestowal of the title of "state senator" on the Mickal, L. S. U. football star.

McGuire said he was sitting near Senator Long in the state senate chamber the night of Nov. 1 when another journalism student brought into the chamber a sheet from the "Reveille" which Long read after it passed through several hands.

The letter was written by Duane E. Norman, a sophomore from Jamestown, La., and was embodied in an "advance sheet" of the campus paper.

McGuire, in his affidavit, related: "As he (Long) read it, his face blackened."

"What paper's this in?" he demanded.

"Someone told him it was to appear in the Reveille, he burst into a tirade of profanity directed at J. H. Cutrer, Jr., editor of the Reveille, interspersed with frequent threats of violence. He said: 'What would I do if the letter was printed next day.'"

"Here is exactly what happened: 'If that little ——— (meaning Cutrer) runs this letter tomorrow we are going to have a new editor,' he said."

And as for that little ——— that was going to be in school, that's my university and I'm not going to stand for any criticism from anybody out there. I'll fire any student who dares to say a word against Huey Long. I'll fire a thousand. We've got ten thousand and take their places. That's my university. I built it, and I'm going to damn for the students criticizing Huey Long."

"I told Jim Smith not to appoint that little ——— editor of that paper."

That letter's not going to be in that paper tomorrow. I'll make 'em tear it out and run the paper over."

Woman Named Senator
McGuire said Miss Helen Glikson, Baton Rouge newspaper woman, who he said was with Long at the time of the senator's outburst, told him that Long had appointed her in McGuire's words, "a journalistic faculty with the additional duty of censor in the Reveille."

McGuire concluded his deposition with the following: "I swore to my own volition, and with my only purpose to give the lie to Huey Long's statement and those of certain University officials that the Reveille was a 'censorship' sheet. I swear the facts as I know them to be."

"I sincerely hope that they may be of some good in eventually raising the standard of Louisiana State journalism. I am sure to which it has fallen, and I hope that those who read it will understand why J. H. Cutrer, Jr., and the self-respecting members of his staff are so angry."

The affidavit was signed before Carlo G. Spahr, Baton Rouge, notary.

Senator Thomas Continues Effort At Devaluation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Senator Thomas (D-Okla.) continued his campaign for further devaluation of the dollar today in a letter to members of congress contending the administration's monetary program "ready has brought about a shifting of values to the benefit of the tax payers and public generally in the total sum of $162,000,000,000."

The Oklahoma senator outlined his monetary beliefs in a long letter addressed also to governors, bankers, economists, editors, educators, ministers and leaders of public thought and action.

He said that "despite benefits from the first devaluation of the dollar, 'the dollar still has a value of 130 cents or an excess value of 30 cents, and such excess is a penalty on the producing and better classes and a bond of servitude to the consumer, holder, and credit classes.'"

Asking the reaction of those to whom he sent his letter Thomas contended that the overvalued dollar in 1933 required the payment of taxes and interest on debts with dollars valued at 167 cents.

This resulted, he said in making the people pay $25,000,000,000 instead of $15,000,000,000 in taxes and $16,000,000,000 instead of $10,000,000,000 in interest.

President Back In White House; Met by Garner

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—President Roosevelt returned to the capital today from Warm Springs to continue his task of preparing a legislative program for congress.

Vice President Garner met the president at the train together with Secretaries Hull and Wagner.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who left Warm Springs in advance, also was at the station to welcome the president home.

The group posed for a few minutes on the back platform for photographers before Roosevelt entered his automobile for the drive to the White House.

The first order of business was luncheon and Mr. Roosevelt served the afternoon for callers.

ELEVENTH TEXAS RELIEF DISTRICT IN SESSION HERE

CITIZENS WHO FAIL TO DO THEIR DUTY SCORED BY FIELD REPRESENTATIVE

More than 125 county relief administrators, certifying officers and case supervisors of the eleventh Texas relief district met in the county court room at the Navarro county courthouse Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and heard addresses from state relief administrators, asked questions and discussed problems of the relief administration for the approaching winter months. Sectional conferences and sessions were scheduled for the afternoon.

C. P. Rogers, Austin, field representative for this district, presided at the meeting. He stated that there were certain elements not doing their duty, pointing out that these were some of the business men and farmers who were declining and refusing to care for the people aiding them to make a livelihood and putting a burden on the relief agencies.

These men were some of the representatives declared, after not doing what they should, go on the streets and criticize the administration of relief to the needy. The district representative said that the work of the relief workers and officials for their work previously done in the relief work, and said that additional work would be added to their offices from time to time.

Among the state officials present who addressed the combined meeting and met with the workers in sectional conferences during the day in addition to Mr. Rogers were: C. H. McLaughlin, accounting section, Austin; Rex B. Baxter, assistant director of rural rehabilitation; E. R. Thomas, district engineer, rural rehabilitation; A. C. Allen, production department; E. S. Smith, staff accounting department of general relief; D. C. Wainwright, assistant rural rehabilitation accounting department; and Mrs. Hal M. Keating, social welfare department.

Delegations were present from the following counties: Anderson, Falls, Leon, Washita, Henderson, Houston, Kaufman, Lee, Navarro, Brazoria, Brazos, Comanche, Dallas, Burleson, Madison, Robertson, Williamson, Wood Lake (Federal project in Trinity county), Ellis and Freestone.

The courtroom was crowded during the morning sessions. Mrs. Keating urged the case work departments to be prompt with their lists of eligibles to be supplied the rural rehabilitation workers. She said that the county could not function until they received the list of names.

With considerable emphasis, the welfare workers declared that the state was not doing enough work for making the clients bend their will to those of the workers, and that the responsibility which accompanied the distribution of the check to the workers was very heavy and extremely careful in their efforts to rebuild people and families. She said that unless the clients were helped, the state would be a failure of the worker, that the case worker should turn to another occupation where he would not have to deal with animate beings.

STATE NATIONAL SENDS CHECK TO UNITED CHARITIES

Miss Augusta Helm, United Charities secretary, announced Thursday morning the receipt of a cashier's check for $50 from the State National Bank for use among the poor of the city during the winter.

A letter from N. Suttle Roberts, vice president of the bank, accompanied the check and explained the gift. The letter follows:

Dear Miss Helm:
Enclosed is Cashier's Check for $50.00 for the United Charities.

This is the amount we did spend each year for Christmas display lights on the front of our building, but we feel that you can put it to a better purpose.

Yours very truly,
N. Suttle Roberts,
Vice President.

BEAUTY CHATS

By EDNA KENT FORBES

All requests for beauty information desired by Edna Kent Forbes must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (3x5) and two cents in stamps to cover cost of printing and handling. For the illustrated paragraph, "BEAUTY," use cents in stamps and fully 3x5. Must be enclosed. Address Miss Forbes in care of this paper.

OFFICE BEAUTY EQUIPMENT

FOR THE BUSINESS OFFICE
Today Miss Forbes tell the business woman exactly what to keep in her office so she can make herself attractive the end of the business day.

The business woman needs a complete miniature beauty kit in her office. I have not seen anything for this purpose in the shops, but I would suggest that she buy one of those rubber lined c a s e s which come in dark and attractive colors, and which hold anywhere from two jars and two bottles up to half a dozen of each. These do not cost much, and they have the irresistible advantage of taking your own home supply of cosmetics so they cost nothing to keep filled. I'd suggest you keep one bottle filled with a cleansing lotion, which is the quickest way of getting a working day of dirt out of your face. Another bottle should hold hand lotion, and a third a fairly stiff astringent to get rid of all those lines that any office day induces. One of the jars, of course, holds cold cream, not cleansing, but something with a bit more body to it. Another jar should hold foundation cream as your powder base. The powder itself should go in the third jar.

These beauty kits always give you an extra space into which you can tuck small items as rouge, lipstick, eye shadow and a tiny box of mascara. There will be space, also, for a nail file to clean the nails, an orange-wood stick for the cuticle and a wet of cotton. This gives you everything you need since your face cream serves to smooth out the cuticle of the nails. A white pencil to clean under the nails can also be tucked in the box. You need only two other items, a cake of really good soap for your hands, and perhaps your face as well, and a small nail brush, but these will fit into a separate metal case. Thus equipped, any girl can leave her office as though she had just stepped out of a beauty shop.

Mrs. S. E.—You may use a plain oil in the place of a cream for massaging around the eyes, but be careful not to drag the skin for this loosens it and increases the tendency to form lines. The purpose of massage is to get the blood circulating through the muscles; in fact, in all the tissues. You may easily do this without working on the skin where there is very little muscle support under it. This may easily be the case where there are premature lines about the eyes of persons who are somewhat underweight. Use a very fine and nourishing oil that is easily absorbed, and there are any number of these sold. You will get excellent results through the fine quality of sweet almond oil. Pat any of these into the skin all around the eyes, and then press a finger into the muscles near to the temple, just past the eye. Retain the position of the finger while you rotate all the muscles over, under, and around the eye. This amounts to an exercise for all these muscles, while the skin remains untouched. By pressing several fingers into the muscles and coming nearer to the temple, you will be able to exercise all the muscles of the cheeks, and some other parts of the face. All these muscles are important in giving support to those around the eyes, so care for these also in your effort to build up a firm state; in doing this, your skin will not have any tendency to form lines. Yines is the forehead from from frowning often, and they may be smoothed out if the habit is discontinued.

STOCK MARKET IS HIGHLY SELECTIVE PROGRESS DOMINANT

COPPERS COME TO LIFE, GRAINS QUIETED; BONDS ARE FAIRLY FIRM

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—Stock market encountered profit-taking currents today, but was generally able to hold its own. Buying interest was extremely selective, however, and most of the so-called leaders did little or nothing. Copper, aluminum, farm machinery and scattered specialties were the favorites in active trading. The close was a little irregular. Transactions approximated 1,400,000 shares.

By VICTOR EUBANK
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—The stock market was a highly-selective affair today although the progressive trend still appeared to predominate.

Trading was quite active in various groups. The copper market came to life for substantial gains and the aviation and farm machinery groups showed improved materially. At the same time, the old-line leaders were unable to do anything in particular, and scattered profit-making in the recent outstanding gains led to restrain spurring activities.

The grains quieted down after their sharp upturn yesterday and cotton showed little disposition to run away from the rest of the market. Bonds were fairly firm. Foreign exchanges recovered mildly in terms of the dollar.

Shares of National Lead got up 3 points, while Briggs and McKesson and Robbins advanced fractions to a point and a new high for the year. Anaconda and Kennecott coppers gained around a point each and Cerro de Pasco, U. S. Smelting and American Smelting were fractionally higher.

Advances of fractions to about a point were also shown by Aviation Corp., Wright Aeronautical, Curtis-Wright and United Aircraft. The railroads and utilities held to a slim groove. The tobacco eased and American telephone, U. S. Steel, American Can, American Sugar, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck and DuPont were unchanged.

The news was not especially exciting, but most of it was viewed as optimistic. There were more extra, special and regular dividends to sustain bullish sentiment. The revival of farm stocks apparently reflected hopes of greatly increased agricultural income.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—Mining stocks led the curb market in a fairly well sustained upward movement today. Brisk trading at the opening was followed by a lull in the second hour, but activity broadened somewhat later.

For several months mining and metal shares have been dormant, often acting as a deterrent to the general market during rising price trends, and the activity in these shares today found a short interest of considerable size aided the upturn.

Newmont Mining gained 1 3/4 points to 24 1/2, while the fractionally higher Bunker Hill and Sullivan and Lake Shore each gained around a point, while Wright Hargraves, Pioneer Gold and Aluminum Co. improved fractionally.

Other sections of the list a steady tone prevailed in most groups, especially merchandising shares and industrials. Standard Oil and Seal advanced around 1 1/4 points. Electric Power and Light, including Edison and General Electric, and American Gas were around 1 1/2 higher.

TEXAS MASONS IN SESSION WACO HEAR HIGHEST OFFICIALS

ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF TWO BRANCHES SCHEDULED FOR TUESDAY

WACO, Dec. 4. (AP)—George W. Clampt of Galveston today was elected grand high priest of the Grand Royal Arch chapter of Texas Masons. He succeeded J. Lee Zumwalt of Dallas.

Other grand chapter officers elected were J. H. Moore of Galveston, deputy grand high priest; O. B. Dickinson of Florence, grand king; Joe X. Newcomb of San Antonio, grand scribe; Frank Oldham, Waco, grand treasurer; T. M. Bartley, Waco, grand secretary.

George Klumbrough of Fort Worth was elected to the committee on work. The chapter will meet again this evening to install officers following adjournment of the grand council.

WACO, Dec. 4. (AP)—Election of officers for both the grand chapter of Texas and the grand council of Royal and Select Masons was planned today by delegates to the annual meeting of Texas Masonic organizations.

Robert A. Woods of Princeton, Ind., grand master of the general grand chapter Royal Arch Masons, presided at the installation, addressed a banquet Friday night. Other speakers included William T. S. O'Hara, of Toledo, Ohio, general grand high priest; Willis J. Bray, grand high priest of the grand chapter of Missouri; Nelson Williams of Ohio, deputy general grand master of the general grand council; Marcus A. Leovy of Mexico, D. F., and Bert D. Asabrock, general grand captain of the grand chapter of the grand council.

J. Lee Zumwalt of Dallas, grand high priest, recommended to the grand Royal Arch chapter of Masons that the home for aged Masons at Arlington be enlarged to care for between 75 and 200 men. He also recommended that celebrations be held at the home every five to ten years hereafter. The largest attendance in years was reported by the grand chapter, treasurer of the grand chapter. It is the eighty-fifth convocation.

Trading was quite active in various groups. The copper market came to life for substantial gains and the aviation and farm machinery groups showed improved materially. At the same time, the old-line leaders were unable to do anything in particular, and scattered profit-making in the recent outstanding gains led to restrain spurring activities.

The grains quieted down after their sharp upturn yesterday and cotton showed little disposition to run away from the rest of the market. Bonds were fairly firm. Foreign exchanges recovered mildly in terms of the dollar.

Shares of National Lead got up 3 points, while Briggs and McKesson and Robbins advanced fractions to a point and a new high for the year. Anaconda and Kennecott coppers gained around a point each and Cerro de Pasco, U. S. Smelting and American Smelting were fractionally higher.

Advances of fractions to about a point were also shown by Aviation Corp., Wright Aeronautical, Curtis-Wright and United Aircraft. The railroads and utilities held to a slim groove. The tobacco eased and American telephone, U. S. Steel, American Can, American Sugar, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck and DuPont were unchanged.

The news was not especially exciting, but most of it was viewed as optimistic. There were more extra, special and regular dividends to sustain bullish sentiment. The revival of farm stocks apparently reflected hopes of greatly increased agricultural income.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—Mining stocks led the curb market in a fairly well sustained upward movement today. Brisk trading at the opening was followed by a lull in the second hour, but activity broadened somewhat later.

For several months mining and metal shares have been dormant, often acting as a deterrent to the general market during rising price trends, and the activity in these shares today found a short interest of considerable size aided the upturn.

Newmont Mining gained 1 3/4 points to 24 1/2, while the fractionally higher Bunker Hill and Sullivan and Lake Shore each gained around a point, while Wright Hargraves, Pioneer Gold and Aluminum Co. improved fractionally.

Other sections of the list a steady tone prevailed in most groups, especially merchandising shares and industrials. Standard Oil and Seal advanced around 1 1/4 points. Electric Power and Light, including Edison and General Electric, and American Gas were around 1 1/2 higher.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6. (AP)—The stock market was a highly-selective affair today although the progressive trend still appeared to predominate.

Trading was quite active in various groups. The copper market came to life for substantial gains and the aviation and farm machinery groups showed improved materially. At the same time, the old-line leaders were unable to do anything in particular, and scattered profit-making in the recent outstanding gains led to restrain spurring activities.

NAVARRO COUNTY'S AUTOMOBILE LICENSE PLATES RECEIVED

MANUFACTURED THIS YEAR
BY STATE PRISON SYSTEM
AT HUNTSVILLE

License plates for use by Navarro county motorists next year were received early Thursday afternoon by R. L. Harris, tax collector, from the Texas prison system. The plates, weighing in excess of 6,300 pounds, were brought to Corsicana on trucks.

The license plates are manufactured by the prison system at a plant constructed this year. The state highway department pays the prison system 6 1/4 cents per pair of plates and Navarro county's share of plates cost $553.13. The highway commission receives half of the revenues from auto and truck registrations after the annual receipts reach $50,000. In former years, Texas purchased the plates from California firms. The prison system installed the manufacturing unit for approximately $30,000, it was stated, and a considerable profit is expected from the 6 1/4 cent rate paid by the highway commission.

The prison system is manufacturing 2,400,000 pairs of plates for use in Texas in 1935.

Distribution of the plates to various counties started this week. Two trucks were in Corsicana early Thursday afternoon and one returned to Huntsville with the other carried the plates to Athens and Henderson county.

Navarro county passenger numbers extend from 769-301 to 776-000, a total of 7,600 plates. The 1935 numbers are maroon and white.

Commercial truck numbers are from 112-301 to 113-200, while farm trucks are from 32-451 to 32-800, a total of 350 pairs of plates. There are 900 truck numbers.

Widow of Murder Victim at Teague Takes Own Life

TEAGUE, Dec. 6.—(P)—Mrs. John L. Adams, widow of a farmer whose body was found in a pond at Groesbeck last May, was shot to death today at a farm three miles east of Teague. Justice of the Peace J. E. Lindsey returned a coroner's verdict of suicide in connection with her death. She was shot in the head with a pistol.

Last May 21, Adams was found with a bullet wound in the head. His body had been dumped in the pond. A coroner's verdict of murder by person or persons unknown was returned at that time. Officers arrested some boys but released them when convinced they had nothing to do with the killing.

About five weeks ago Texas rangers reopened the investigation and have been working steadily on it since then. Yesterday they questioned Mrs. Adams and her son, Duane, at length. The officers expressed confidence they were near a solution of Adams' death.

Sheriff Will Adams of Limone county came here today from Groesbeck to investigate Mrs. Adams' death.

Surprise Shower For Two Recent Brides at Dresden

On November 24, Miss Leslie Rogers and Loyd Wooten, and Miss Addie Pearl Melton and G. W. Johnson surprised their many friends by getting married, and on Monday afternoon, December 3, their many friends surprised them with a miscellaneous shower for both brides at the home of Mrs. Lester M. Clark.

Everyone enjoyed the evening while waiting for the brides to arrive. They came at 3 o'clock after they had been told there was to be a special program over the radio. After they arrived they played a game of dressing the bride, using clothes pins and small pieces of crepe paper. Mrs. G. W. Johnson won first prize for having the best dressed bride. The clothes pins were given to her.

Then we had a lost slipper and the one it fit received the prize. The slipper fit the bride, Mrs. Addie Melton. The lost treasure was brought in and given her. It was a little white pig with a big blue bow of ribbon tied around its neck. The pig was given to Mrs. Wooten by a friend, "Lill Melton."

Then the brides were seated in chairs decorated for each one. The colors were blue and white. Then the presents were given to them and then passed around for all to see.

They were led into the dining room where the hostess served bananas, peanut butter sandwiches, hot chocolate and hot coffee.

Those present were the two brides, Mrs. G. W. Johnson and Mrs. Loyd Wooten, and Mrs. Lester Clark, Mrs. Loyd Morton, Mrs. Dick Hales, Mrs. W. F. Stages, Mrs. J. C. Whitledge, Miss Ruby White, Miss Aline White, Mrs. Lill Melton, Mrs. J. G. Melton, Mrs. Rubin Melton, Miss Lue Edda and Lorene Melton, Mrs. Rachel Dickson, Miss Elsie Stages, Mrs. Henry Stages, Miss Lillian Phillips, Mrs. Zach Melton, Jr., Mrs. Belle Hall, Mrs. Lucile Hall, Mrs. A. A. Blair, Mrs. B. E. Melton, Grandma Melton, Mrs. J. Woodland, Mrs. W. G. Johnson, Grandma Johnson, Mrs. L. M. Jordan, Miss Lue Ella True-love, and Miss Undean Arnold.

Others, not present, sent lovely gifts. All seemed to enjoy the afternoon.

The brides, thanking each and every one, returned to their homes happier than ever.

OIL PRODUCTION IN OCTOBER INCREASED OVER LAST MONTHS

STOCKS AND DEMANDS OF
GASOLINE SHOWED GAINS
ACCORDING REPORT

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(P)—The Bureau of Mines today reported the nation's crude oil output at 76,776,000 barrels in October, a daily average of 2,477,000 barrels.

That compared with a September production of 75,810,000, averaging 2,527,000 barrels daily, and with 76,077,000, averaging 2,454,000 daily, in October of last year.

A decline in Texas production accounted for nearly all the lower output in October.

The bureau said total demand for all oils increased in October to 91,456,000 barrels. It was only 85,364,000 in September and 86,805,000 in October, 1933.

The bureau said crude stocks at the close of October amounted to 346,415,000 barrels, against 348,932,000 in September and 349,000,000 in October of last year.

Stocks of all oils aggregated 579,561,000 compared with 587,167,000 in September and 615,669,000 in October a year ago.

Crude runs to stills in October came to 75,388,000 barrels. In September the figure was 73,389,000. The bureau gave no figures for October, 1933.

Motor fuel production rose to 36,231,000 barrels in October from 34,956,000 in September. At the same time gasoline stocks dropped to 45,087,000 barrels in October from a September total of 47,931,000.

Domestic oil and William motor fuel for October was 37,544,000 barrels against 34,877,000 in September.

HOME DESTROYED IN EXALL HEIGHTS AREA WEDNESDAY

Members of the Corsicana fire department had a busy session Wednesday with two alarms, and losses totalling more than $2,000.

The first came about 1:40 Wednesday afternoon and resulted in about $125 damage to the garage and home of Mrs. E. E. Nicholson at 617 South Fifteenth street. Burning trash ignited the garage and then spread to the house.

The second alarm came about 4:45 Wednesday afternoon to the home of Mrs. E. G. Stahl in Exall Heights behind the L. T. Davis residence. Damage to the house and contents was estimated at $2,000. The origin of the fire was unknown but fire department officials said that it was apparently due to a short-circuited radio.

A pet dog kept in the house was burned to death. Mrs. Stahl and Mrs. and Mrs. Erman Tyner lost almost all of their personal possessions.

The house was owned by E. M. Way of Emhouse.

The place for the district basketball and soft ball tournament was decided on, Mildred F. F. A. chapter will sponsor this affair sometime in January.

Chapters present at the initiation meeting were Ennis, Mexia, Mildred, Wortham, Kerens and Blooming Grove. Mr. Moore, vocational agriculture teacher of Groesbeck was also present.

Cash Paid For Your Old Gold, Jewelry, Watches, Etc.

This year, since the president's decree raising the price of gold almost 70 per cent has been given widespread publicity by newspapers and advertisements, there are few persons not aware that their old and discarded gold articles such as old gold watch cases, chains, gold teeth, ring mountings, bracelets, and so forth, will bring them an exceptionally high price when sold to an old gold dealer.

If you need extra money for Christmas then bring all articles that you suspect of having gold, silver, or platinum content to our office and let us make you a cash offer for same.

Very often one watch case or gold bracelet will bring you sufficient cash to cover the cost of an entire list of Christmas gifts. (Licensed by U. S. Government to Buy)
